Absentee Rains Cost U.S. Farmers Millions

CHICAGO (AP) — The rains that never came have cost American farmers from New England to the Rockies millions of dollars in damaged crops this summer.

An Associated Press survey shows that they stand to lose million more because drought conditions still prevail in many sections of the country.

Compounding the farmers' woes has been scorching temperatures that left fields parched.

Rural counties in some agricultural states have been declared federal disaster areas, with farmers obtaining emergency loans.

The dry spell has also forced some communities to ration or curtail the use of water by the general public.

Here is a rundown of the situation in affected states:

Ohio—Most of central, southern and Western Ohio very dry. Nearly score of counties on list for federal aid. Last measurable rainfall in Columbus was Aug. 22 and then only one-half inch. Corn crop suffering and pastures dry, but drinking water appears adequate.

Kentucky — Drought blamed for estimated cut of 50 million pounds in burley tobacco output.

New Mexico — 15 of 32 counties receiving some kind of drought disaster aid. Water reported in short supply at state reservoirs.

New York — Drought has lasted five months in some eastern and central upstate counties, resulting in dried-up pastures, stunted grain crops and a scarcity of hay. Many communities have restrictions on use of water and dairymen are asking for a revision of the federal milk-price formula to cover increased feed costs.

Indiana — Serious forest fires threaten in the southern part of state unless substantial rain falls in the next 10 days. But

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) —

President Johnson, identifying the Republican cause with "a doctrine that invites extremism," says voters this year will reject "the echoes of the past."

The President set a Harrisburg audience of 5,000 cheering and chanting Thursday night, accusing his opposition of demanding that voters "choose a doctrine that is alien to America — that would lead to a tragic convulsion in our foreign relations."

And, depicting 1964 as a time of decision, he said citizens will be voting on "the peace of the world."

Never during the evening did Johnson mention his GOP rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater. But by talking about extremism — a hot topic at July's Republican National Convention — and by repeatedly saying that his opponents demanded a choice of the voters, Johnson sought to make his target evident.

Goldwater has said many times that his candidacy offers the electorate a choice, not an echo.

Johnson, at the end of his speech, adopted the word "echo" for dramatic effect.

He contended that the voice of the majority long ago said "yes" to Social Security, the minimum wage, equal opportunity, medical care for the aged, the anti-poverty program and other Democratic-sponsored measures.

"But the echo still says 'no!'" he shouted as he ran through the litany.

Each time Johnson used his "echo" line, he slammed down his clenched fist like a cheerleader and the audience chanted the phrase with him in unison.

"This year," said Johnson, "the mighty voice of the American majority will be heard."

Columbus Slaying Is 'Brutal'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "An unusually brutal attack," was the way Coroner Robert A. Evans today described the slaying of Mrs. Laura Mae Lowe, 42-year-old assistant admitting director of Doctors Hospital.

The coroner said Mrs. Lowe died of suffocation—a pair of white walking shorts wrapped around her head and stuffed into her throat—"plus a tremendous beating about the head."

The body of the attractive divorcee and mother of three children was found Thursday morning on the bedroom floor of her apartment. A trail of small, bloody footprints led the way down the stairs of the north side home, across the front porch and on the sidewalk for a short distance before fading away.

Police believe the prints were made by the slayer, walking in bare or stocking feet. Homicide detectives said the assailant apparently entered through a kitchen window, attacked Mrs. Lowe and walked out the front door. Coroner Evans fixed the time of death at around midnight Wednesday.

The coroner said a blood stain on the edge of the bed indicated the victim probably was sitting on the bed when first struck by the killer. There was no evidence of a struggle in the apartment.

Johnson Tours Hurricane Area

Dora Seen Losing Force

Third Big Blow Heads for Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson decided today to take a first-hand look at the devastation caused by hurricane Dora in northeast Florida and southeast Georgia.

The President was scheduled to arrive in this battered city at mid-afternoon, make an on-the-ground inspection and then fly to Brunswick, Ga., for a look at the stricken Georgia coast.

The surprise announcement of Johnson's plans came as a federal inspection team headed by Edward A. McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, began a tour of the two-state area.

The federal officials had been dispatched earlier by the President, who Thursday declared all sections of Georgia and Florida battered by Dora a major disaster area.

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, said congressmen from the two states had urged the President to visit the badly damaged region.

Reedy announced the trip barely an hour before Johnson's scheduled departure.

Meanwhile, residents of the stricken area began a massive cleanup and repair job, at the same time watching apprehensively the slow approach of hurricane Ethel.

It was too early to tell where Ethel would go, but her center was whirling toward the U.S. mainland along the same path

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway Director P. E. Masheter has notified his division engineer in Middletown that department engineers have found a 1,500-foot stretch of road on Interstate 71 that will have to be corrected.

The director said the stretch of road is just west of the U.S. 72 interchange and 10 miles northeast of Wilmington.

He said the road developed wavy contour and variable crown. The contractors have agreed to make repairs, Masheter said, adding that it should in no way delay the opening of I-71 from Columbus to Cincinnati.

OSU Prexy Decides Not To Quit Post

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Novice G. Fawcett said in a statement today he has changed his mind and will not resign as president of Ohio State University.

The statement issued as university trustees prepared to meet said Fawcett came to this meeting with the full intent of seeking retirement from public education at the end of the coming academic year in order to become executive vice president of the American Automobile Association.

The convention's committee on permanent organization elected Eugene Clark, Junction City, as chairman of the committee on permanent organization, and Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz to serve as secretary of the committee. Clark is chairman of the Perry County Republican Executive Committee and Mrs. Chaney is Harrison County chairwoman.

More than 2,000 delegates and alternates are expected to attend the afternoon and evening sessions of the convention. Congressman William E. Miller of New York, the GOP vice presidential nominee, will speak at 7:30 p.m.

Whale of Memento Hinted for President

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — When President Johnson comes to Vancouver next Wednesday he may receive a whale of a memento.

Alderman Aeneas Bell-Irving said Thursday he hoped the President would pay a visit to Moby Doll, the city's 2-ton killer whale. But if he can't Bell-Irving thinks the City Council should present the President with a silver miniature.

Barry Labels Court 'Threat'

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today that the Supreme Court, by not using judicial restraint, threatens our present system of government.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the American Political Science Assn., the Republican presidential candidate said:

"I weigh my words carefully when I say that — of all three branches of government — today's Supreme Court is the least faithful to the constitutional tradition of a limited government, and to the principle of legitimacy in the exercise of power."

Twice Thursday Goldwater criticized the court's decision on reapportionment of state legislatures. Today he was again critical of that decision, as well of its verdict in the school prayer case.

He cited these to illustrate his contention the court is moving into areas he doesn't think it should be in.

"I do not doubt for one minute that law must keep up with the changing times," Goldwater said. "But the job of keeping the law up to date should be in the hands of the legislatures, the Congress, and the common law courts, not just in the hands of the nine appointed justices of the Supreme Court."

Goldwater said today's court operates differently from those in the past.

"Until recent years," he said, "the Supreme Court itself has exercised judicial restraint with respect to acts of Congress with which it disagreed but which were founded on legitimate exercise of legislative power."

"But not the Supreme Court of today!"

This is the last day of Gold-

water's first week of official campaigning. He has a speech at Rockford, Ill., late today, and then it's back to Washington for the weekend before taking his drive for the presidency into the South next week.

Goldwater began his speech to the political scientists by hitting on a familiar theme — the growth of presidential power, which he says can upset the system of checks and balances between the executive, legislative and judiciary branches of government. Repeatedly he has accused President Lyndon B. Johnson of being "power mad."

"To a constitutionalist," Goldwater said, "it is at least as important that the use of power be legitimate than that it be beneficial."

And with this he switched his attack to the court and its prayer and reapportionment verdicts.

"The decisions are defended, implicitly or explicitly, on the grounds that the results are desirable: that it really isn't good for children to say prayers in school, and that it really is desirable to have state legislatures, in their entirety, apportioned on a one man, one vote basis," Goldwater said.

Young Eyes Taft Challenge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D - Ohio, flew back to Washington this morning leaving a debate challenge by Republican Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr. undecided.

Taft, trying to unseat Young in the November election, issued the debate challenge at a press conference here Thursday.

Before departing from Port Columbus this morning, Sen. Young said he wanted to give the matter further thought, that his first reaction was an unwillingness to be in the same situation as occurred when Secretary of State Ted W. Brown opposed Taft in last May's Republican primary.

"I would want to be protected from the unscrupulous operations of some campaign manager," Sen. Young said here, and "see some ground rules set up" to prevent distortion of any debates.

Young was in Portsmouth for Thursday night's testimonial dinner for Frank E. Smith, Democratic candidate for 6th District congressman.

In his address, the senator jabbed away at "Goldwaterism, Taftism and extremism," calling them all the same political commodity.

Saying that Taft and Goldwater voted alike on 85 percent of the issues before Congress, Young challenged Taft "to tell his fellow Ohioans where he stands on such past Goldwater issues as the John Birch brand of extremism . . . dismantling TVA . . . undermining Social Security by making it optional . . . ending the nuclear test ban treaty."

Young said Taft poses as a moderate to the moderates "and to the extremists, he's one of their boys."

Ex-Newsman Gets Nod as Nominee

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ex-newsman Mike Maloney, 35, has been named by Hamilton County Republicans to fill the unexpired term of State Sen. Gordon Renner, who died Sept. 2.

Maloney quit the Cincinnati Enquirer last year after 15 years to become administrative assistant to county GOP chairman Gordon H. Scherer.

Compromise Plan Hinted In Reapportionment Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters claimed today chances were better than even that the Senate would adopt a compromise solution in its fight over legislative reapportionment.

The compromise, reportedly backed by President Johnson, would declare that it is the "sense of Congress" that court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures be delayed.

The compromise lacks the force of a proposal by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, which would delay for at least one year enforcement of the Supreme Court's ruling that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned according to population.

Dirksen's proposal is a major barrier to early adjournment of Congress.

A vote on the compromise is scheduled for next Tuesday after two test votes Thursday. In the key action, the Senate voted 49 to 38 against tabling — and thus killing — Dirksen's proposal, which has been offered as a rider to the pending $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

Opponents of the Dirksen rider said it would require a shift of only six votes to adopt the compromise, which is being backed by Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey, Johnson's running mate in the Nov. 3 presidential election.

The compromise was offered by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn. Javits told newsmen "the chances are 50-50 or better" that the Senate will adopt it. Other supporters agreed the odds are "better than even."

The compromise is the Senate's pending business as a substitute for Dirksen's rider, which would delay reapportionment in the absence of highly unusual circumstances. Dirksen's rider was designed to give legislators a chance to nullify the Supreme Court's ruling with a constitutional amendment.

Otucks Book Folk Festival

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Otucks will be out in full force Saturday and Sunday for their sixth annual Folk Festival.

Otucks are former Kentuckians now living in Ohio, and Stanley Dezarn, festival chairman, estimated that "40 per cent of the people in southwestern Ohio are Otucks."

The festival will be Sunday afternoon in Butler County fairgrounds and will include singers from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana. One of the singers will be Kentucky State Sen. Pleaz Mobley of Manchester, an authority on Kentucky folklore.

Several awards are to be made at a banquet Saturday night. The speaker will be attorney Harry M. Caudill of Whitesburg, Ky., a Kentucky state senator and author of "Night Comes to the Cumberland."

Boy Likes Firetrucks, Sets Blaze to Church

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy, who said he "wanted to see the excitement of the fire trucks and the crowds" has admitted setting a fire in a church.

Viet Nam Peace Talks Expected After Reds See They're Losing

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials say they believe it may become possible to negotiate an end to the war in South Viet Nam, but only after Red China and North Viet Nam are convinced they are backing a losing aggression.

Whether the anti-Communist fighting will have to be expanded beyond the borders of South Viet Nam before that result is achieved is one of the questions left open following the consultations here this week of Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor with President Johnson and other U.S. policy makers.

Taylor, who left Washington Thursday night to return to Saigon, said he is sure the South Vietnamese struggle "will end victoriously from our point of view."

But he declined to speculate on when it would end and he said this is not the time to talk about negotiations.

When asked if there had been any discussion in the conferences this week about an armistice with the Reds, Taylor replied "absolutely not."

The sessions confirmed two immediate major objectives in South Vietnamese policy.

The most important of these purposes, according to reports coming out of the sessions at the White House and State Department, is the formation of a stable South Vietnamese government in Saigon as quickly as possible.

Taylor is understood to have reported to President Johnson and others here that U.S.-backed Premier Nguyen Khanh has come to be regarded even by his political foes in Saigon as an almost indispensable man at the moment.

Taylor feels he is the one man who has broad support among major elements of the Vietnamese population, including politically powerful Buddhists, the Catholics and the military.

The other objective on which a start is expected in the immediate future is a clean-up of Communist guerrilla forces in the four provinces immediately around Saigon.

Officials said Taylor had received assurances from Premier Khanh that he intended to go forward with the operation without delay, even during the government reorganization.

In discussing the larger and long range aspects of the South Vietnamese conflict, officials said, Taylor expressed the view that it would not be won by military means alone.

In effect he ruled out prospects for a solely military victory over the guerrillas forces supported directly by North Viet Nam and at least indirectly by Red China.

But he thought, and other officials apparently agreed, that support of the guerrillas is imposing a heavy burden on Communist North Viet Nam and this is certain to grow heavier as the contest continues.

Once Around Roundtown

A LOCAL resident is conducting an unofficial survey on Roundtown bicycle riders.

For 90 minutes yesterday evening he drove around the streets of the city.

During that period he observed 50 youthful cyclists. . . Thirty-two of them were riding on the wrong side of the street. . . Eighteen were riding double and two were riding triple. . . Thirteen of the cyclists ignored stop signs. . . Residents of the city agree something must be done. . . Yet, when Chief of Police Robert Temple took a youthful offender to his parents early this week, the violation was treated as a joke by the youngster's mother.

THE EARLY morning stillness in rural areas was broken by an occasional shotgun blast this morning, signifying that squirrel hunting season has begun. . . The season for the bushy-tailed game animals is considered one of the more dangerous for the hunters by game enforcement personnel. . . There is little resemblance between man and squirrel, but foliage is thick and visibility extremely limited in the natural habitat of the furry beast. . . Hunters are urged to be sure of their target before shooting.

THE TEMPERATURE yesterday reached 97. . . It was the season's hottest day. . . The cloudy skies and brisk winds today are more in keeping with the opening of the high school football season. . . All four county schools have games tonight. . . Teays Valley and Logan Elm are playing their opening tilts at home, while Circleville and Westfall are on the road.

COLORFUL place mats are being used in many local restaurants these days, compliments of the Pumpkin, Show Inc. . . The place mats promote the local festival in grand style. Two pictures and plenty of data have been attractively engraved on the mats.

Bay State Chief Loses In Primary

BOSTON (AP) — Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti scored a smashing 28,000-vote upset victory in the Massachusetts primary Thursday to wret the Democratic nomination for governor from the incumbent Gov. Endicott Peabody.

Complete returns from the state's 2,008 precincts gave Bellotti 363,243 votes to Peabody's 335,620.

Former Gov. John A. Volpe, whom Peabody defeated two years ago by a 5,000-vote margin out of more than two million cast, was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Bellotti's victory means that for the first time in Massachusetts history both major parties will be backing a son of Italian immigrants for the state's highest office.

In challenging Peabody for the nomination, Bellotti—father of 12—bucked the state Democratic party leadership including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who from his hospital bed issued a strong endorsement of Peabody.

Later, Kennedy issued a statement saying the nominee "deserves the congratulations of every Democrat for the hard and courageous campaign which brought him victory. He now deserves the support of every Democrat in the coming contest to bring about a total Democratic victory in November."

"Until recent years," he said, "the Supreme Court itself has exercised judicial restraint with respect to acts of Congress with which it disagreed but which were founded on legitimate exercise of legislative power."

"But not the Supreme Court of today!"

This is the last day of Gold-

water's first week of official campaigning. He has a speech at Rockford, Ill., late today, and then it's back to Washington for the weekend before taking his drive for the presidency into the South next week.

Goldwater began his speech to the political scientists by hitting on a familiar theme — the growth of presidential power, which he says can upset the system of checks and balances between the executive, legislative and judiciary branches of government. Repeatedly he has accused President Lyndon B. Johnson of being "power mad."

"To a constitutionalist," Goldwater said, "it is at least as important that the use of power be legitimate than that it be beneficial."

And with this he switched his attack to the court and its prayer and reapportionment verdicts.

"The decisions are defended, implicitly or explicitly, on the grounds that the results are desirable: that it really isn't good for children to say prayers in school, and that it really is desirable to have state legislatures, in their entirety, apportioned on a one man, one vote basis," Goldwater said.

Young Eyes Taft Challenge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D - Ohio, flew back to Washington this morning leaving a debate challenge by Republican Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr. undecided.

Taft, trying to unseat Young in the November election, issued the debate challenge at a press conference here Thursday.

Before departing from Port Columbus this morning, Sen. Young said he wanted to give the matter further thought, that his first reaction was an unwillingness to be in the same situation as occurred when Secretary of State Ted W. Brown opposed Taft in last May's Republican primary.

"I would want to be protected from the unscrupulous operations of some campaign manager," Sen. Young said here, and "see some ground rules set up" to prevent distortion of any debates.

Young was in Portsmouth for Thursday night's testimonial dinner for Frank E. Smith, Democratic candidate for 6th District congressman.

In his address, the senator jabbed away at "Goldwaterism, Taftism and extremism," calling them all the same political commodity.

Saying that Taft and Goldwater voted alike on 85 percent of the issues before Congress, Young challenged Taft "to tell his fellow Ohioans where he stands on such past Goldwater issues as the John Birch brand of extremism . . . dismantling TVA . . . undermining Social Security by making it optional . . . ending the nuclear test ban treaty."

Young said Taft poses as a moderate to the moderates "and to the extremists, he's one of their boys."

Ex-Newsman Gets Nod as Nominee

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ex-newspaperman Mike Maloney, 35, has been named by Hamilton County Republicans to fill the unexpired term of State Sen. Gordon Renner, who died Sept. 2.

Maloney quit the Cincinnati Enquirer last year after 15 years to become administrative assistant to county GOP chairman Gordon H. Scherer.

Taft Talked As Chairman Of Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr., candidate for U.S. senator, has been recommended for permanent chairman of the Republican state convention to be held in the RKO Palace Theater here next Thursday.

Ray C. Bliss, state GOP chairman, said the permanent organization committee had agreed on that recommendation at a session here. It also agreed, Bliss said, to recommend that Rep. Oliver P. Bolton of the 11th District, now a candidate for congressman-at-large, be named convention permanent vice chairman, and Mrs. Juanita Williams, member of the Republican state committee from the 21st Congressional District, be recommended for the post of permanent secretary.

The convention's committee on permanent organization elected Eugene Clark, Junction City, as chairman of the committee on permanent organization, and Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz to serve as secretary of the committee. Clark is chairman of the Perry County Republican Executive Committee and Mrs. Chaney is Harrison County chairwoman.

More than 2,000 delegates and alternates are expected to attend the afternoon and evening sessions of the convention. Congressman William E. Miller of New York, the GOP vice presidential nominee, will speak at 7:30 p.m.

Whale of Memento Hinted for President

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — When President Johnson comes to Vancouver next Wednesday he may receive a whale of a memento.

Alderman Aeneas Bell-Irving said Thursday he hoped the President would pay a visit to Moby Doll, the city's 2-ton killer whale. But if he can't, Bell-Irving thinks the City Council should present the President with a silver miniature.

Party Chiefs Sign Pact, Then Engage in Hassle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties signed a fair-campaign pledge today—and immediately got into a hot row over alleged unfair campaign tactics.

Republican Chairman Dean Burch and Democrat John Bailey read their prepared statements without incident, then signed the pledge drafted by the Fair Campaign Practices Committee.

But before the news conference was over, Burch cried "foul" over a Democratic television spot announcement.

He said the TV spot showed a little girl picking daisies, then a nuclear blast and finally had a voice urging voters to support President Johnson.

"The only innuendo that can be drawn is that President Johnson is a careful man and that Sen. Goldwater might somehow cause some sort of atomic conflict," Burch said.

He said this constituted "libel against the Republican nominee" and was an unfair appeal to the basic emotion of the survival instinct.

Bailey replied: "The complaint is that we're trying to scare people with the image of Barry Goldwater. Any image of Mr. Goldwater has been created by himself."

Bailey said that he would be

She Can Keep Key to City

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Mayor Marian Erdmann presented Mrs. Barry Goldwater with a copper key to the city of Great Falls Thursday and said — in a friendly rib at Billings, Mont. — "We do not ask to have it returned."

Billings officials presented Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson with a key to the city last month and Mayor Willard Frazer's efforts to have it returned gained nationwide attention. Frazer later told the First Lady she could keep it but she sent it back anyway.

Commission Pays Animal Claims

Pickaway County Commissioners closed their third quarterly meeting yesterday with the payment of $869 in animal claims.

Thirteen claims were authorized for payment. The animal claims were made as the result of chickens and sheep being killed by dogs.

The commission authorized General Telephone Co. to install a public pay telephone on E. Main St., near the Memorial Hall. Commissioners said that many requests have been made for the phone.

Goeglein-Thomas Supply Co. was given the task of fixing and replacing several windows at the Memorial Hall.

County Engineer Henry T. McCrady was instructed by Commissioners to purchase the necessary material and equipment to build a sectional plane arch to replace the present structure over Mud Run ditch on County Road 38 in Walnut Twp. The work is to be done "as soon as possible."

British Alert 4 Warships

Vessels Dispatched To Aid Malaysia

SINGAPORE (AP) — Britain dispatched four warships from the Mediterranean to Singapore today to bolster its Far East Fleet guarding Malaysia against Indonesia.

A Royal Navy spokesman said the two frigates and two destroyers should arrive within a week. He said they were ordered here "obviously due to the deteriorating situation in Southeast Asia."

The order to strengthen the sea force followed the airlift to Singapore Thursday of a 500-man anti-aircraft regiment from British forces in Germany.

The British Defense Ministry also disclosed that four Vulcan bombers, three Canberra photo-reconnaissance planes and two long-range sea patrol Shackletons had been moved to Aden as part of the buildup. Apparently they were being brought closer to Singapore for quicker transfer if needed.

Britain is pledged to defend the year-old Malaysian Federation of Malaya, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak which Indonesia has vowed to destroy.

Indonesia, which has landed troops and dropped paratroopers on the Malayan Peninsula in recent weeks, claims the federation is a device to preserve British rule in Southeast Asia.

The United States urged the U.N. Security Council Thursday to call on Indonesia to stop armed attacks on Malaysia and establish conditions for negotiation of their differences.

Stocks Cling To Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, struggling to maintain its upward momentum of recent days, clung to a narrow over-all gain today. Trading was fairly active in the early afternoon.

Some popular stocks numbered among the soft issues.

Motors, bellwether of upswings Thursday and Wednesday, were on the weak side. Steels, also buoyant in past days, likewise were draggy.

Oils were almost uniformly higher. But the gains mostly fractional.

The Big Three automakers, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, all dipped fractionally. Investors were trying to reassess prospects in the light of continuing negotiations, now centered on Ford.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 322.1, with industrials up .8, rails up .8 and utilities up .2.

Judge Levies $100 Fine for Assault

Roy Murray of Circleville was handed a $100 fine and a 90-day suspended jail sentence in Circleville Municipal Court today when he was found guilty of assault and battery.

Murray was charged with assaulting Darlene Manbeavers, 15. Ed Boysel filed the charge.

taken by her late, destructive sister, Dora.

Dora limped weakly, but wet, westward through the Florida Panhandle, her fury spent in an orgy of destruction along the Atlantic shore and a slow trek across the inland pinelands.

Preliminary estimates put damage in the tens of millions of dollars. But because of early warnings and preparation, including large-scale coastal evacuations, there were no deaths directly attributable to the storm.

Dora lost her strength during a rainy trek across northern Florida and was downgraded to a tropical storm with peak winds estimated at 60 miles per hour. Dora was expected to continue moving west, with perhaps a slight turn to the north, and gradually wear herself out.

Gales lashed the state capital of Tallahassee and other parts of thinly populated northern Florida for hours during the night, but little damage was reported other than minor flooding.

Highest winds recorded inland were less than 50 m.p.h.

Ethel, a small storm with a 300-mile spread of gales and peak winds of 95 m.p.h., churned westward from a spot about 800 miles east of Palm Beach.

"It's a good three days away, even if it should maintain its present course," said chief forecaster Gordon Dunn. "We're not making any predictions at this point."

Although power was still largely out, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Brunswick pitched into a monumental repair and cleanup job.

More than 30,000 persons who spent two nights on the hard floors of churches, schools and armories in Georgia, Florida and South Carolina returned to their homes.

Some had no homes left. Fourteen houses north of St. Augustine were demolished. The huge tides and driving waves cut the land from under them and they washed away.

However, considering Dora's massive reach, structural damage was relatively light.

The worst destruction was caused by flood waters. They ran waist deep in the streets of St. Augustine during high tide.

Water Supply At Williamsport Under Study

The Williamsport Village council has retained a consultant to study the community's water supply.

The engineer is Arthur Wyatt of Canal Winchester. A report is scheduled to be ready for the October meeting of the council.

Council indicated the survey will be made at no cost to the village.

Local Man Competes in Speech Test

Ralph May, 1134 Atwater Ave., will vie with 13 other Ohio speakers for "Best Speaker Award" at the first Columbus Olympics at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Olympics, sponsored by Gabriel Richard Institute, will be held in the auditorium of St. Charles Seminary, 2010 E. Broad St., Columbus.

May's alternate is Mrs. Hilary E. Holste, 381 Meadow Lane.

Judges will consist of well-known personalities from Columbus and Detroit.

The 13 contestants were selected from more than 200 graduates of the 1963-64 GRI Christopher Leadership courses. They represent classes from Circleville, Columbus, Lancaster, Westerville, Mt. Vernon, Newark, Chillicothe, Delaware and New Lexington.

The Circleville class was conducted at St. Joseph's Church by a team made up of an instructor, a class assistant, a hostess, a promoter and a moderator. Each is trained to discharge the duties of his role and all are volunteers. The purpose of the nine - week course is to develop self - confidence, renew Christian purpose, gain speaking ability, become more creative, improve your personality and turn ideas into action. The course is open to any adult from the senior in high school to the senior citizen.

All graduates of previous GRI courses and their guests have been invited to attend the Columbus Olympics.

Arts, Crafts Show Planned

The Pickaway County Historical Society is planning an arts and crafts show for its regular meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday.

This meeting will be held in the 4-H and Grange Building at the County Fairgrounds. It will be open to the public at no charge and school children are also invited.

Tentative plans have been made for the following arts and crafts demonstrations: spinning, weaving, cobbling, candle dipping, quilting, chair seat caning, drying and arranging flowers in the old manner, rug braiding, ironing and butter making.

A corn husking bee is planned, plus square dancing.

An itinerate painter will be present to demonstrate how a painter used to go from house to house following his profession. Mrs. Frank Morrison will read a paper entitled "Ask Grandma, She Knows", after which will follow the arts and crafts show.

Derby Man Fined $10 for No Dog Tags

Dave Cox, Derby, was fined $10 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court for failure to buy dog tags.

little crop loss anticipated, although rivers and creeks in northwest Indiana are at lowest levels in a decade.

Colorado — Five eastern counties asking disaster relief. Wheat crop hit hardest.

Missouri — Relief from recent rains but corn crop throughout state already damaged and pastures in poor shape.

Kansas — Farmers in some central and western areas waiting for rain before planting wheat. September rains have alleviated situation elsewhere.

Wisconsin — More than 20 counties declared eligible for federal assistance although new rainfall has improved the situation.

Pennsylvania — Several counties in north central and northeast receiving disaster aid. Hay, corn and pastures hardest hit.

Texas — Moisture short over most of the state. Livestock conditions generally poor and herds dwindling. Hay, cotton, corn and peanut harvest fair to poor. City water supplies mostly adequate but some small towns have rationed water.

Illinois — Corn and soybean crops expected to be poorer due to August dry spell.

Massachusetts — Pasture conditions poorest in 15 years. Apple, cranberry and blueberry crops expected to be smaller than usual.

Worker Killed In Fall at Power Plant

Maynard Counts, Stoutsville, an eleven-year veteran with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., was killed yesterday when he fell 25 feet to his death at the company's Pickaway Substation near the Pickaway-Franklin county line.

Mr. Counts, 30, was working with a repair crew on the substation structure when he slipped and fell. He was taken to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, about 9:30 a. m. where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Death was attributed to severe concussion and fractures of the skull.

He was born Feb. 1, 1934, in Kentucky, the son of Claud and Mildred Ellen King Counts, who now reside on Route 4.

Also surviving are his widow, Betty Lou Martin Counts; three sons, Ronnie Lee, Jerry Lee and Gregory; two brothers, Herbert, Route 4; Linton Counts, U. S. Navy; two sisters, Mrs. Irene Hamilton, E. Union St., and Mrs. Beulah Barnhart, Route 4.

SERVICES will be 10:30 a. m. Monday at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Maurice Bailey officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill Cemetery, Stoutsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p. m. Saturday.

Party Chiefs Sign Pact, Then Engage in Hassle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties signed a fair-campaign pledge today—and immediately got into a hot row over alleged unfair campaign tactics.

Republican Chairman Dean Burch and Democrat John Bailey read their prepared statements without incident, then signed the pledge drafted by the Fair Campaign Practices Committee.

But before the news conference was over, Burch cried "foul" over a Democratic television spot announcement.

He said the TV spot showed a little girl picking daisies, then a nuclear blast and finally had a voice urging voters to support President Johnson.

"The only innuendo that can be drawn is that President Johnson is a careful man and that Sen. Goldwater might somehow cause some sort of atomic conflict," Burch said.

He said this constituted "libel against the Republican nominee" and was an unfair appeal to the basic emotion of the survival instinct.

Bailey replied: "The complaint is that we're trying to scare people with the image of Barry Goldwater. Any image of Mr. Goldwater has been created by himself."

Bailey said that he would be

She Can Keep Key to City

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Mayor Marian Erdmann presented Mrs. Barry Goldwater with a copper key to the city of Great Falls Thursday and said — in a friendly rib at Billings, Mont. — "We do not ask to have it returned."

Billings officials presented Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson with a key to the city last month and Mayor Willard Frazer's efforts to have it returned gained nationwide attention. Frazer later told the First Lady she could keep it but she sent it back anyway.

Commission Pays Animal Claims

Pickaway County Commissioners closed their third quarterly meeting yesterday with the payment of $869 in animal claims.

Thirteen claims were authorized for payment. The animal claims were made as the result of chickens and sheep being killed by dogs.

The commission authorized General Telephone Co. to install a public pay telephone on E. Main St., near the Memorial Hall. Commissioners said that many requests have been made for the phone.

Goeglein-Thomas Supply Co. was given the task of fixing and replacing several windows at the Memorial Hall.

County Engineer Henry T. McCrady was instructed by Commissioners to purchase the necessary material and equipment to build a sectional plate arch to replace the present structure over Mud Run ditch on County Road 38 in Walnut Twp. The work is to be done "as soon as possible."

British Alert 4 Warships

Vessels Dispatched To Aid Malaysia

SINGAPORE (AP) — Britain dispatched four warships from the Mediterranean to Singapore today to bolster its Far East Fleet guarding Malaysia against Indonesia.

A Royal Navy spokesman said the two frigates and two destroyers should arrive within a week. He said they were ordered here "obviously due to the deteriorating situation in Southeast Asia."

The order to strengthen the sea force followed the airlift to Singapore Thursday of a 500-man anti-aircraft regiment from British forces in Germany.

The British Defense Ministry also disclosed that four Vulcan bombers, three Canberra photo-reconnaissance planes and two long-range sea patrol Shackletons had been moved to Aden as part of the buildup. Apparently they were being brought closer to Singapore for quicker transfer if needed.

Britain is pledged to defend the year-old Malaysian Federation of Malaya, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak which Indonesia has vowed to destroy.

Indonesia, which has landed troops and dropped paratroopers on the Malayan Peninsula in recent weeks, claims the federation is a device to preserve British rule in Southeast Asia.

The United States urged the U.N. Security Council Thursday to call on Indonesia to stop armed attacks on Malaysia and establish conditions for negotiation of their differences.

Stocks Cling To Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, struggling to maintain its upward momentum of recent days, clung to a narrow over-all gain today. Trading was fairly active in the early afternoon.

Some popular stocks numbered among the soft issues.

Motors, bellwether of upswings Thursday and Wednesday, were on the weak side. Steels, also buoyant in past days, likewise were draggy.

Oils were almost uniformly higher. But the gains mostly fractional.

The Big Three automakers, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, all dipped fractionally. Investors were trying to reassess prospects in the light of continuing negotiations, now centered on Ford.

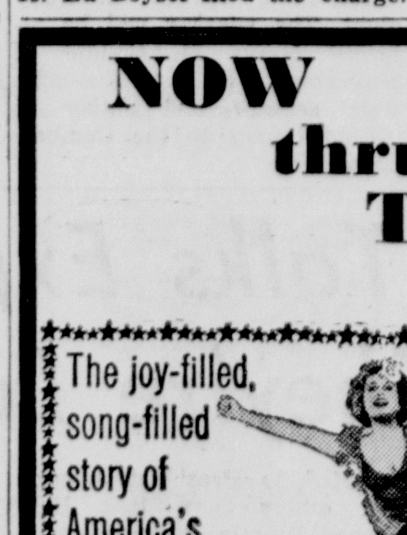

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 322.1, with industrials up .8, rails up .8 and utilities up .2.

taken by her late, destructive sister, Dora.

Dora limped weakly, but wet, westward through the Florida Panhandle, her fury spent in an orgy of destruction along the Atlantic shore and a slow trek across the inland pinelands.

Preliminary estimates put damage in the tens of millions of dollars. But because of early warnings and preparation, including large-scale coastal evacuations, there were no deaths directly attributable to the storm.

Dora lost her strength during a rainy trek across northern Florida and was downgraded to a tropical storm with peak winds estimated at 60 miles per hour. Dora was expected to continue moving west, with perhaps a slight turn to the north, and gradually wear herself out.

Gales lashed the state capital of Tallahassee and other parts of thinly populated northern Florida for hours during the night, but little damage was reported other than minor flooding.

Highest winds recorded inland were less than 50 m.p.h. Ethel, a small storm with a 300-mile spread of gales and peak winds of 95 m.p.h., churned westward from a spot about 800 miles east of Palm Beach.

"It's a good three days away, even if it should maintain its present course," said chief forecaster Gordon Dunn. "We're not making any predictions at this point."

Although power was still largely out, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Brunswick pitched into a monumental repair and cleanup job.

More than 30,000 persons who spent two nights on the hard floors of churches, schools and armories in Georgia, Florida and South Carolina returned to their homes.

Some had no homes left. Fourteen houses north of St. Augustine were demolished. The huge tides and driving waves cut the land from under them and they washed away.

However, considering Dora's massive reach, structural damage was relatively light.

The worst destruction was caused by flood waters. They ran waist deep in the streets of St. Augustine during high tide.

Water Supply At Williamsport Under Study

Local Man Competes in Speech Test

Ralph May, 1134 Atwater Ave., will vie with 13 other Ohio speakers for "Best Speaker Award" at the first Columbus Olympics at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Olympics, sponsored by Gabriel Richard Institute, will be held in the auditorium of St. Charles Seminary, 2010 E. Broad St., Columbus.

May's alternate is Mrs. Hilary E. Holste, 381 Meadow Lane.

Judges will consist of well-known personalities from Columbus and Detroit.

The 13 contestants were selected from more than 200 graduates of the 1963-64 GRI Christopher Leadership courses. They represent classes from Circleville, Columbus, Lancaster, Westerville, Mt. Vernon, Newark, Chillicothe, Delaware and New Lexington.

The Circleville class was conducted at St. Joseph's Church by a team made up of an instructor, a class assistant, a hostess, a promoter and a moderator. Each is trained to discharge the duties of his role and all are volunteers. The purpose of the nine-week course is to develop self-confidence, renew Christian purpose, gain speaking ability, become more creative, improve your personality and turn ideas into action. The course is open to any adult from the senior in high school to the senior citizen.

All graduates of previous GRI courses and their guests have been invited to attend the Columbus Olympics.

Arts, Crafts Show Planned

The Pickaway County Historical Society is planning an arts and crafts show for its regular meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday.

This meeting will be held in the 4-H and Grange Building at the County Fairgrounds. It will be open to the public at no charge and school children are also invited.

Tentative plans have been made for the following arts and crafts demonstrations: spinning, weaving, cobbling, candle dipping, quilting, chair seat caning, drying and arranging flowers in the old manner, rug braiding, ironing and butter making.

A corn husking bee is planned, plus square dancing.

An itinerant painter will be present to demonstrate how a painter used to go from house to house following his profession. Mrs. Frank Morrison will read a paper entitled "Ask Grandma, She Knows", after which will follow the arts and crafts show.

little crop loss anticipated, although rivers and creeks in northwest Indiana are at lowest levels in a decade.

Colorado — Five eastern counties asking disaster relief. Wheat crop hit hardest.

Missouri — Relief from recent rains but corn crop throughout state already damaged and pastures in poor shape.

Kansas — Farmers in some central and western areas waiting for rain before planting wheat. September rains have alleviated situation elsewhere.

Wisconsin — More than 20 counties declared eligible for federal assistance although new rainfall has improved the situation.

Pennsylvania — Several counties in north central and northeast receiving disaster aid. Hay, corn and pastures hardest hit.

Texas — Moisture short over most of the state. Livestock conditions generally poor and herds dwindling. Hay, cotton, corn and peanut harvest fair to poor. City water supplies mostly adequate but some small towns have rationed water.

Illinois — Corn and soybean crops expected to be poorer due to August dry spell.

Massachusetts — Pasture conditions poorest in 15 years. Apple, cranberry and blueberry crops expected to be smaller than usual.

New Jersey — August was the driest in the state's history. Last substantial rainfall in Trenton July 31. Dairy farmer hardest hit and unusual number of wood and brush fires reported in the past week.

West Virginia — North-central area approved for grazing livestock on soil bank acreage because of drought conditions. No serious shortage of moisture elsewhere.

Maryland — Pasture feed supplies very short due to water shortage in most important livestock areas, but tobacco harvest proceeding more rapidly than 1963.

Iowa — Drought lifted in August but still responsible for 39-million-bushel drop in corn yield estimate.

Nebraska — No serious drought condition although southwest wheat area seeding delayed somewhat due to dry soil conditions.

GE Engineer Transferred To Cleveland

FRANCIS T. WIRTH

E. G. Grigg, plant manager of General Electric's local lamp plant, announced today the promotion of Francis T. Wirth to the position of value control specialist in the Large Lamp Department Manufacturing Engineering Section, Cleveland.

The definite date of transfer has not yet been determined, Grigg said.

A native of Ashtabula, Wirth first joined GE in 1941 as an apprentice at Erie, Pa. His GE career was interrupted in 1941 by service in the United States Navy.

During 1947-1950, while attending Case Institute of Technology, Wirth worked part time at GE's Cleveland Equipment Works, now called Lamp Equipment Operation. In 1951, following his graduation from Case with a BSEE degree, he accepted a position as electrical engineer at that plant.

WIRTH transferred to the Circleville Lamp Plant in 1954, accepting a position as quality control engineer. In 1957 he became a project engineer in the manufacturing engineering section of the local plant.

While in Circleville, the GE engineer has been a member of the First Presbyterian Church where he has served as deacon, elder, trustee and Sunday School teacher. He has also been active in the Boy Scout program in Circleville, serving as assistant scoutmaster, scoutmaster, neighborhood commissioner and district committee member. He is also a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (I.E.E.E.).

Wirth and his wife, June, have three daughters and reside at 1050 Atwater Ave.

Standardized Building Plan Given Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board has released $100,000, aimed at saving $3 million, by having standard designs developed for the interior construction of state university and college buildings.

The money was released Thursday at the request of the Ohio Board of Regents which would contract for the designs for about $200,000. A grant from a Ford Foundation agency for the other $100,000 is expected. The board would contract with laboratories to develop a design for university branches, community colleges and technical institutes.

In other action, the board: Released $315,000 to buy land and provide facilities for 207 camping sites at Great Lake St. Marys in Auglaize and Mercer counties.

Released $50,000 for sidewalk and driveway repair at Miami University and $10,000 to buy land for a new university residence hall.

Made $21,500 available to plan a $300,000 reservoir of 170 acres for recreation in the Cooper Hollow Wildlife Area of Jackson County.

2 Rubbish Fires Cause No Damage

Two small rubbish fires were brought under control by the Circleville Fire Department before any damage was done.

One, apparently caused by youngsters playing in the brush just off the Lancaster Pike along Hargus creek occurred 5:35 p. m. Wednesday.

The other, which spread from a burning trash barrel, was at the rear of 104 Reber Ave. yesterday.

LBJ, Barry Both Name Policy Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeming to hit on the same idea at the same time, have mustered some all-star reinforcements for the campaign battles ahead over foreign policy.

The President announced at his news conference Wednesday "the formation of a panel of distinguished citizens who will consult with the president during the coming months on major international problems facing the United States."

Goldwater, his Republican foe, was also turning out a speech in Seattle naming a seven-man team headed by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to confer with free world leaders in "a serious and historically significant attempt to regroup freedom's badly scattered forces while there is still time."

"We do not intend to rubber-stamp four years of mistake, retreat and weakness in world affairs," Goldwater declared.

On his part, Johnson made no reference to politics or the campaign and included both Democrats and Republicans on his panel — many of whom have had powerful roles in shaping American policy since World War II.

Johnson said the consultants would include former Secretary of State Dean Acheson; Arthur Dean, former disarmament negotiator; John Cowles, president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune; attorney Morris Leibman; Gen. Omar Bradley; James Wadsworth, a former disarmament negotiator; Arthur Larson, former chief of the U.S. Information Agency; James Perkins, president of Cornell University; Robert Lovett, former defense secretary; George Kistiakowsky, former White House science adviser;

Roswell Gilpatric, former deputy secretary of defense; Paul Hoffman, former foreign aid administrator; Eugene Black, former head of the World Bank; John McCloy, who has often negotiated for the United States with the Soviet Union; Allen Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Teodoro Moscoso, former coordinator for the Alliance for Progress.

Goldwater, in addition to Nixon, named these to his task force:

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former commander of U.S. forces in Europe and the late President John F. Kennedy's troubleshooter during the Berlin crisis; Herbert Hoover Jr., former undersecretary of state; Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of

Stockyards Sued in High Bid Hassle

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—The former owner of a steer which sold for 30 times its normal value during a National Farmers Organization demonstration here Sept. 2 has filed suit to force the stockyard to pay him his money.

E. R. Stevens of Flemingsburg, Ky., alleges that the Union Stockyards Co., owes him $3,247.40 for an 875-pound steer auctioned on consignment to Everett Henry, a NFO member from London, Ohio.

Henry told stockyard officials he thought he was bidding on another steer, Stevens' steer sold for $5 a pound. The average price is about 20 cents a pound.

The sale was held during a NFO holding action at the stockyards to hold beef off the market and force processors to sign higher price contracts with NFO sellers.

The high bidding on the steer was viewed by some stock yard officials as a move to delay stockyard transactions.

GE Engineer Transferred To Cleveland

FRANCIS T. WIRTH

E. G. Grigg, plant manager of General Electric's local lamp plant, announced today the promotion of Francis T. Wirth to the position of value control specialist in the Large Lamp Department Manufacturing Engineering Section, Cleveland.

The definite date of transfer has not yet been determined, Grigg said.

A native of Ashabula, Wirth first joined GE in 1941 as an apprentice at Erie, Pa. His GE career was interrupted in 1941 by service in the United States Navy.

During 1947-1950, while attending Case Institute of Technology, Wirth worked part time at GE's Cleveland Equipment Works, now called Lamp Equipment Operation. In 1951, following his graduation from Case with a BSEE degree, he accepted a position as electrical engineer at that plant.

WIRTH transferred to the Circleville Lamp Plant in 1954, accepting a position as quality control engineer. In 1957 he became a project engineer in the manufacturing engineering section of the local plant.

While in Circleville, the GE engineer has been a member of the First Presbyterian Church where he has served as deacon, elder, trustee and Sunday School teacher. He has also been active in the Boy Scout program in Circleville, serving as assistant scoutmaster, scoutmaster, neighborhood commissioner and district committee member. He is also a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (I.E.E.E.).

Wirth and his wife, June, have three daughters and reside at 1050 Atwater Ave.

Standardized Building Plan Given Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board has released $100,000, aimed at saving $3 million, by having standard designs developed for the interior construction of state university and college buildings.

The money was released Thursday at the request of the Ohio Board of Regents which would contract for the designs for about $200,000. A grant from a Ford Foundation agency for the $100,000 is expected. The board would contract with laboratories to develop a design for university branches, community colleges and technical institutes.

In other action, the board: Released $315,000 to buy land and provide facilities for 207 camping sites at Great Lake St. Marys in Auglaize and Mercer counties.

Released $50,000 for sidewalk and driveway repair at Miami University and $10,000 to buy land for a new university residence hall.

Made $21,500 available to plan a $300,000 reservoir of 170 acres for recreation in the Cooper Hollow Wildlife Area of Jackson County.

2 Rubbish Fires Cause No Damage

Two small rubbish fires were brought under control by the Circleville Fire Department before any damage was done.

One, apparently caused by youngsters playing in the brush just off the Lancaster Pike along Hargus creek occurred 5:35 p. m. Wednesday.

The other, which spread from a burning trash barrel, was at the rear of 104 Reber Ave. yesterday.

LBJ, Barry Both Name Policy Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeming to hit on the same idea at the same time, have mustered some all-star reinforcements for the campaign battles ahead over foreign policy.

The President announced at his news conference Wednesday "the formation of a panel of distinguished citizens who will consult with the president during the coming months on major international problems facing the United States."

Goldwater, his Republican foe, was also turning out a speech in Seattle naming a seven-man team headed by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to confer with free world leaders in "a serious and historically significant attempt to regroup freedom's badly scattered forces while there is still time."

"We do not intend to rubber-stamp four years of mistake, retreat and weakness in world affairs," Goldwater declared.

On his part, Johnson made no reference to politics or the campaign and included both Democrats and Republicans on his panel — many of whom have had powerful roles in shaping American policy since World War II.

Johnson said the consultants would include former Secretary of State Dean Acheson; Arthur Dean, former disarmament negotiator; John Cowles, president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune; attorney Morris Leibman; Gen. Omar Bradley, James Wadsworth, a former disarmament negotiator; Arthur Larson, former chief of the U.S. Information Agency; James Perkins, president of Cornell University; Robert Lovett, former defense secretary; George Kistiakowsky, former White House science adviser;

Roswell Gilpatric, former deputy secretary of defense; Paul Hoffman, former foreign aid administrator; Eugene Black, former head of the World Bank; John McCloy, who has often negotiated for the United States with the Soviet Union; Allen Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency; and Teodoro Moscoso, former coordinator for the Alliance for Progress.

Goldwater, in addition to Nixon, named these to his task force:

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former commander of U.S. forces in Europe and the late President John F. Kennedy's troubleshooter during the Berlin crisis; Herbert Hoover Jr., former undersecretary of state; Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of

Stockyards Sued in High Bid Hassle

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—The former owner of a steer which sold for 30 times its normal value during a National Farmers Organization demonstration here Sept. 2 has filed suit to force the stockyard to pay him his money.

E. R. Stevens of Flemingsburg, Ky., alleges that the Union Stockyards Co., owes him $5,247.40 for an 875-pound steer auctioned on consignment to Everett Henry, a NFO member from London, Ohio.

Henry told stockyard officials he thought he was bidding on another steer. Stevens' steer sold for $6 a pound. The average price is about 20 cents a pound.

The sale was held during a NFO holding action at the stockyards to hold beef off the market and force processors to sign higher price contracts with NFO sellers.

The high bidding on the steer was viewed by some stock yard officials as a move to delay stockyard transactions.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Life would be much simpler for men if women wore identifying badges.
I don't mean a badge that says, "I am a woman."
What I mean is a badge that would tell what kind of a woman she was — so a man would know on sight just how to treat her.
In the war between the sexes, women, for all practical purposes, can be divided into three types. Most of man's bewilderment, confusion or absolute dismay in his contacts with a member of the opposing sex is caused by the fact he isn't sure just what type she is.
These are the three types of women:
1. The superwoman who thinks she is better than any man.
2. The shrewd conniver. She demands equal rights with men, but also expects all the special privileges historically accorded ladies.
3. The clinging vine woman. All she wants from a man is everything he has — plus what he can borrow at the bank.

It would make for a more ordered world, I submit, if each of these feminine types would wear identifying badges — at least in public.
For the superwoman, I suggest a lapel pin showing a spiked heel crushing a worm. The worm, of course, symbolizes man.
When a fellow saw that badge he would realize instantly: "Here is a gal who knows more about any topic in the world than I could ever possibly learn."
"Here is a gal who could pin me in a wrestling match, outride me on horseback, or beat me in a gun duel."
"No matter what she says, I will reply, 'Yes, ma'am.'"
As for the second type, the shrewd conniver, a proper symbol might be a feminine Janus head, with its two faces looking in opposite directions.
When a fellow saw that badge, he would say to himself: "She's the dependent independent type."

"She wants to compete with me for my job, which she thinks she can do better."
"But if we go out together for a business lunch, she will be too weak to pick up the check. She will also expect me to pay for the cab there and back."
"If it rains, she will expect me to hold my umbrella over her head while my head gets wet."
For the third feminine type, the clinging vine, an excellent symbol might be a startled fawn standing in a cradle.
When a fellow saw that badge, he would think: "She is as helpless as a bundle of wet wash."
"She expects me to put her on a pedestal."
"It would be fun to cuddle this little baby, but if I marry her I'll have to spoon-feed her, do the dishes, and spend the rest of my life wiping her tears away."
Yes, it would be a far, far, better world for men if women wore identifying badges. But they never will. That's the trouble with the unfair sex. They never give fair warning.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Further cutting of federal tax rates — without much if any drop in the Treasury's total take — is one of the pleasanter prospects of the coinciding of a presidential campaign with general prosperity.
Some administration officials have been talking tentatively of slicing the excise taxes that annoy countless Americans, especially the ladies.
The Republican standard bearer is talking of another cut in income tax rates.
Other Washington sources chip in with talk of collecting a lot of federal taxes, but giving more of the total to the states and local government. The latter's bills are rising, but proposals to raise local tax rates are meeting more resistance from the voters.

Prospect for clipping the federal income tax rates or dropping some of the excise levies are brightened by two current conditions:
—So many more Americans are paying taxes on larger income totals that the U.S. Treasury collections are rising in spite of the lower rates in effect this year.
—Many in Washington are convinced that the way to make the nation more prosperous, and thus raise individual and corporate incomes still higher, is to cut tax rates again, even if the Treasury still is running a big deficit, in spite of the record tax collections.
In the fiscal year that ended June 30, the Treasury collected a record $112 billion, compared with $106 billion the previous fiscal year.

Some of this is for Social Security and thus outside the federal budget.
Although the income tax cuts were in effect the last four months of the last fiscal year, the number of individual tax returns had risen to 65 million from the previous year's 63 million. Those extra two million, and the larger incomes of many of the oldtimers, gave the Treasury its bigger collection.
Corporate returns also rose, because corporate profits did. And all signs point to a further rise in business earnings. Even with the lower rate of taxation on corporate profits this year, and still lower next, the record profits may give the Treasury more than it got before the tax cut bill was passed. The Treasury will still be getting almost half of the gross earnings.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Q: Does everybody have "sinus?"
A: Everybody has sinuses, but not everybody has sinusitis.
"Itis" means inflammation or infection. Therefore "sinusitis" means inflammation or infection of one or more sinuses.
Q: What are the sinuses?
A: The nasal sinuses are hollow cavities in the front of the skull. Most people have four sets of sinuses: the frontal sinuses just above the eyes; the ethmoid sinuses just below the eyes, in the cheeks; the sphenoid sinuses, between the bridge of the nose and the eyes; and the maxillary sinuses far back in the nose.
All healthy sinuses are lined with a thin mucous membrane.
Q: What is the purpose of the sinuses?
A: It is said that sinuses lighten the weight of man's head by providing these empty spaces. It is also thought that they aid in the resonance of speech.
Q: What causes infection of the sinuses?
A: Sinusitis can be caused by many varieties of bacteria. Sometimes these bacteria enter the sinuses when there is an infection in the nose.
A severe cold may produce a certain acute type of sinusitis. Abscesses of the teeth may be responsible, too.
Sudden and sharp changes in temperature and humidity and nasal allergies predispose many people to sinus infections.
Q: What are the symptoms of sinus infection?
A: Stiffness of the nose, thick nasal discharge and headache are predominant symptoms.
Q: Is it true that once the sinuses are washed out by a doctor it is necessary to repeat this procedure indefinitely?
A: This notion is entirely false. It is necessary to irrigate (wash out) the sinuses only when they become filled or clogged with pus after an infection. This treatment can be painlessly performed with a local anesthetic.
Q: What other treatments are there for sinusitis?
A: Discriminately chosen antibiotics, limited quantities of nose drops, steam inhalation and application of heat to the face may all be beneficial and help in the cure.
Q: When is surgery of the sinuses necessary?
A: There are various reasons for surgery of the sinuses. Like surgery anywhere else in the body, it is a carefully chosen form of treatment.
Q: Does one infection of the sinuses lead to chronic sinusitis?
A: It does not. However, when sinus infections are neglected, they may very well lead to a chronic condition.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

To the Editor:
When a new business moves into our community most of us welcome it for many reasons. We hope that it will stimulate our economy and contribute to our growth. We hope that it will furnish employment to local people seeking jobs, or at least, those who come up to the employer's specifications.
It is my belief, as well as that of many others, that our educational system here is among the best, turning out personnel acceptable to businesses all over the country. Since this is a fact proven many times, from this question arises: Why is it that so many of our people are not being employed here at home?
This becomes an enigma, when, as I have said before, our people, especially our graduates, both high school and college, are sought after and welcomed everywhere else.
I would like to suggest that in the future all businesses in this area give our own people the first chances at new employment. By doing so, many of them will remain at home where they deserve to stay if they so wish. This is to be desired if we want our community to grow population-wise.
From a business standpoint, I think it is obvious to most everyone that paychecks in the hands of local people will certainly benefit us more than those carried by outsiders to localities many miles removed from here.
As a starting point, I suggest that certain civic and business organizations impress upon em-

A bracketed pair of issues in the current political campaign seems to be oversimplification versus under simplification. One side is saying that we live in a complex age and there are no easy choices. The other side is saying that every man has to say yes or no to basic questions.
So there's plenty of common motion and much rhetoric. But I would like to argue that ever since the nineteen thirties we have had only the easiest of answers. Its spelled out in one word, money.
Take, for instance, this problem of dealing with urban blight in our cities. The easy answer is to provide federal money to send in the bulldozers. Private property is seized for a low fee, cleared, and handed over to developers who turn it into housing projects, new business centers, and what not.
Effective enough you might say. But the side effects are frequently very strange. The simple answer, money, leads to some extremely complicated conditions. Poor people find they have been bulldozed out of rookeries and cannot afford to move into the new apartment houses. They go and create a new congestion elsewhere. A downtown area will be razed for a new business center, and small displaced merchants will suddenly discover they can't compete with the big chain organization for space in the new development area. Other small merchants, trying to carry on their trade in the side streets for an interim period of, say, five years while the new center is being built, will find they have no customers. Who wants to come downtown to a city whose center has become a series of holes in the ground? The small side street merchants, waiting for the hole to be filled up, can't stand month after month of red ink, so they quit and go elsewhere, and many an old family business disappears forever. Big business monopolists who can afford a period of waiting take over.
To take another example where the easy answer of federally donated money will not suffice, let's look at education. To hear the Washington politicians talk, education is a matter of providing money for buildings, money for teachers' colleges, money for research. True enough, there is one man in Washington, Admiral Hyman Rickover who says the trouble with modern education is not lack of buildings or teachers but lack of content and quality. For a generation now we have been turning out high school graduates who can't read a complex sentence and who don't know how to look things up in an index.

Money isn't the answer to this problem of so-called functional illiteracy. The basic question involved is one of educational philosophy, which would cost very little in money terms to change.
The answer to the farm problem for the past thirty years has been the simple one of providing money to pay for the money-created crop surplus. Of course this simple answer leads to a complex chain of events. Cotton is subsidized, which raises the price. So the exporter of cotton must be subsidized in turn, and the domestic manufacturer of cotton shirts must receive some help because his raw material comes higher than it does to manufacturer in foreign lands.
The problem of providing medicare for old people is another one that is apparently going to evoke the simple answer of money. Tack it on to Social Security, say the federal politicians, yes, then the young couples who are trying to live on the take-home pay that is left out of a four or five thousand a year income will bear the full impact of the cost of medicare. And many of them will necessarily sacrifice their own old age insurance policies to do so. Money only stretches so far.

I'm tired of the simple answers we have been getting for thirty years. I would like a different type of simple answer from here on in.

Labels for Women Urged

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Life would be much simpler for men if women wore identifying badges.

I don't mean a badge that says, "I am a woman."

What I mean is a badge that would tell what kind of a woman she was — so a man would know on sight just how to treat her.

In the war between the sexes, women, for all practical purposes, can be divided into three types. Most of man's bewilderment, confusion or absolute dismay in his contacts with a member of the opposing sex is caused by the fact he isn't sure just what type she is.

These are the three types of women:

1. The superwoman who thinks she is better than any man.

2. The shrewd conniver. She demands equal rights with men, but also expects all the special privileges historically accorded ladies.

3. The clinging vine woman. All she wants from a man is everything he has — plus what he can borrow at the bank.

It would make for a more ordered world, I submit, if each of these feminine types would wear identifying badges — at least in public.

For the superwoman, I suggest a lapel pin showing a spiked heel crushing a worm. The worm, of course, symbolizes man.

When a fellow saw that badge he would realize instantly:

"Here is a gal who knows more about any topic in the world than I could ever possibly learn."

"Here is a gal who could pin me in a wrestling match, outride me on horseback, or beat me in a gun duel."

"No matter what she says, I will reply, 'Yes, ma'am.'"

As for the second type, the shrewd conniver, a proper symbol might be a feminine Janus head, with its two faces looking in opposite directions.

When a fellow saw that badge, he would say to himself:

"She's the dependent independent type."

"She wants to compete with me for my job, which she thinks she can do better."

"But if we go out together for a business lunch, she will be too weak to pick up the check. She will also expect me to pay for the cab there and back."

"If it rains, she will expect me to hold my umbrella over her head while my head gets wet."

For the third feminine type, the clinging vine, an excellent symbol might be a startled fawn standing in a cradle.

When a fellow saw that badge, he would think:

"She is as helpless as a bundle of wet wash."

"She expects me to put her on a pedestal."

"It would be fun to cuddle this little baby, but if I marry her I'll have to spoon-feed her, do the dishes, and spend the rest of my life wiping her tears away."

Yes, it would be a far, far, better world for men if women wore identifying badges. But they never will. That's the trouble with the unfair sex. They never give fair warning.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Further cutting of federal tax rates — without much if any drop in the Treasury's total take — is one of the pleasanter prospects of the coinciding of a presidential campaign with general prosperity.

Some administration officials have been talking tentatively of slicing the excise taxes that annoy countless Americans, especially the ladies.

The Republican standard bearer is talking of another cut in income tax rates.

Other Washington sources chip in with talk of collecting a lot of federal taxes, but giving more of the total to the states and local government. The latter's bills are rising, but proposals to raise local tax rates are meeting more resistance from the voters.

Prospect for clipping the federal income tax rates or dropping some of the excise levies are brightened by two current conditions:

—So many more Americans are paying taxes on larger income totals that the U.S. Treasury collections are rising in spite of the lower rates in effect this year.

—Many in Washington are convinced that the way to make the nation more prosperous, and thus raise individual and corporate incomes still higher, is to cut tax rates again, even if the Treasury still is running a big deficit, in spite of the record tax collections.

In the fiscal year that ended June 30, the Treasury collected a record $112 billion, compared with $106 billion the previous fiscal year.

Some of this is for Social Security and thus outside the formal federal budget.

Although the income tax cuts were in effect the last four months of the last fiscal year, the number of individual tax returns had risen to 65 million from the previous year's 63 million. Those extra two million, and the larger incomes of many of the oldtimers, gave the Treasury its bigger collection.

Corporate returns also rose, because corporate profits did. And all signs point to a further rise in business earnings. Even with the lower rate of taxation on corporate profits this year, and still lower next, the record profits may give the Treasury more than it got before the tax cut bill was passed. The Treasury will still be getting almost half of the gross earnings.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Q: Does everybody have "sinus?"
A: Everybody has sinuses, but not everybody has sinusitis. "Itis" means inflammation or infection. Therefore "sinusitis" means inflammation or infection of one or more sinuses.

Q: What are the sinuses?
A: The nasal sinuses are hollow cavities in the front of the skull. Most people have four sets of sinuses: the frontal sinuses just above the eyes; the antral sinuses just below the eyes, in the cheeks; the ethmoid sinuses, between the bridge of the nose and the eyes; and the sphenoid sinuses far back in the nose.

Q: All healthy sinuses are lined with a thin mucous membrane.
Q: What is the purpose of the sinuses?
A: It is said that sinuses lighten the weight of man's head by providing these empty spaces. It is also thought that they aid in the resonance of speech.

Q: What causes infection of the sinuses?
A: Sinusitis can be caused by many varieties of bacteria. Sometimes these bacteria enter the sinuses when there is an infection in the nose.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

To the Editor:
When a new business moves into our community most of us welcome it for many reasons. We hope that it will stimulate our economy and contribute to our growth. We hope that it will furnish employment to local people seeking jobs, or at least, those who come up to the employer's specifications.

It is my belief, as well as that of many others, that our educational system here is among the best, turning out personnel acceptable to businesses all over the country. Since this is a fact proven many times, from it this question arises: Why is it that so many of our people are not being employed here at home?

This becomes an enigma, when, as I have said before, our people, especially our graduates, both high school and college, are sought after and welcomed everywhere else.

I would like to suggest that in the future all businesses in this area give our own people the first chances at new employment. By doing so, many of them will remain at home where they deserve to stay if they so wish. This is to be desired if we want our community to grow population-wise.

From a business standpoint, I think it is obvious to most everyone that paychecks in the hands of local people will certainly benefit us more than those carried by outsiders to localities many miles removed from here.

As a starting point, I suggest that certain civic and business organizations impress upon em-

30 Years of Simple Answers

By John Chamberlain

A bracketed pair of issues in the current political campaign seems to be oversimplification versus under simplification. One side is saying that we live in a complex age and there are no easy choices. The other side is saying that every man has to say yes or no to basic questions.

So there's plenty of common motion and much rhetoric. But I would like to argue that ever since the nineteen thirties we have had only the easiest of answers. Its spelled out in one word, money.

Take, for instance, this problem of dealing with urban blight in our cities. The easy answer is to provide federal money to send in the bulldozers. Private property is seized for a low fee, cleared, and handed over to developers who turn it into housing projects, new business centers, and what not.

Effective enough you might say. But the side effects are frequently very strange. The simple answer, money, leads to some extremely complicated conditions. Poor people find they have been bulldozed out of rookeries and cannot afford to move into the new apartment houses. They go and create a new congestion elsewhere. A downtown area will be razed for a new business center, and small displaced merchants will suddenly discover they can't compete with the big chain organization for space in the new development area. Other small merchants, trying to carry on their trade in the side streets for an interim period of, say, five years while the new center is being built, will find they have no customers. Who wants to come downtown to a city whose center has become a series of holes in the ground? The small side street merchants, waiting for the hole to be filled up, can't stand month after month of red ink, so they quit and go elsewhere, and many an old family business disappears forever. Big business monopolists who can afford a period of waiting take over.

To take another example where the easy answer of federally donated money will not suffice, let's look at education. To hear the Washington politicians talk, education is a matter of providing money for buildings, money for teachers' colleges, money for research. True enough, there is one man in Washington, Admiral Hyman Rickover who says the trouble with modern education is not lack of buildings or teachers but lack of content and quality. For a generation now we have been turning out high school graduates who can't read a complex sentence and who don't know how to look things up in an index.

Money isn't the answer to this problem of so-called functional illiteracy. The basic question involved is one of educational philosophy, which would cost very little in money terms to change.

The answer to the farm problem for the past thirty years has been the simple one of providing money to pay for the money-created crop surplus. Of course this simple answer leads to a complex chain of events. Cotton is subsidized, which raises the price. So the exporter of cotton must be subsidized in turn, and the domestic manufacturer of cotton shirts must receive some help because his raw material comes higher than it does to manufacturer in foreign lands.

The problem of providing Medicare for old people is another one that is apparently going to evoke the simple answer of money. Tack it on to Social Security, say the federal politicians, yes, then the young couples who are trying to live on the take-home pay that is left out of a four or five thousand a year income will bear the full impact of the cost of medicare. And many of them will necessarily sacrifice their own old age insurance policies to do so. Money only stretches so far.

I'm tired of the simple answers we have been getting for thirty years. I would like a different type of simple answer from here on in.

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
Muriel G. Ott, Guardian of Hattie Delong, Incompetent Plaintiff, vs.

State of Ohio, Defendant.

No. 19643
NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE

In pursuance of the order of the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, I will offer for sale at public auction of the 10th day of October, 1964, at 2:00 o'clock P. M. EST., at the premises, 207 East High Street, Circleville, Ohio, the following described real estate situated in the City of Circleville, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio, and being the north one half of lot number Forty-eight (48) according to revised numbering of lots of said city, excepting therefrom a strip off the northwest corner of said lot, said strip fronting Thirty-one (31) feet along High Street and running back 88 feet along Pickaway Street being that part of a said lot heretofore conveyed to Thomas and Kate McCrady by Joseph Keyser by deed recorded in Deed Book 57, page 367, Recorder's records, Pickaway County, Ohio.

Said Real Estate is appraised at Three Thousand Dollars, ($3,000.00) and must be sold for not less than two-thirds of its appraised value. The terms of sale are ten per cent (10 per cent) of said purchase price in cash immediately after said sale, the balance of said purchase price in cash within thirty (30) days or upon delivery of deed. Muriel G. Ott, Guardian of Hattie Delong, Incompetent. Robert H. Huffer, Atty. Sept. 11, 1964, Oct. 2, 9.

When there are so many apples on the tree, how do you pick the right one?
This is always the problem of youth. There are so many roads, so many opportunities, so many desires. How do you decide which may be best? And, when you have made a choice, how do you know it is the right one?
Education is society's solution to the quandaries of youth. Fortify the child's mind with knowledge and skills and he'll be ready to make decisions.
But secular education offers no basis for meeting dilemmas that are not secular. Youth desperately needs moral and religious education as well.
Every Sunday in our churches millions of fortunate youngsters are receiving the vital spiritual training which our complicated life demands. Their parents generally come with them. For grownups wise enough to understand their children's needs, realize their own as well!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Local Minister Is Delegate To Convention

The Rev. R. J. Varnell, pastor of the Church of God, 400 Nicholas Drive, and his family have returned from Dallas, Texas, after attending the Church of God general assembly.

Rev. Varnell was one of 10,000 delegates chosen to attend the biennial convention, held for the purpose of transacting business for the General Church and worshipping together with Church of God ministers from all over the world. On the return trip they visited many points of interest, including the International Headquarters of T. L. Osborn Evangelistic Association, The Oral Roberts University and Headquarters Building Tulsa, Okla., and The Assemblies of God Headquarters, Springfield, Mo. Rev. Varnell notified the local congregation that upon their unanimous vote he was officially appointed for another two year term as pastor of the Circleville Church of God. This appointment begins his seventh year as pastor of the local church.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "No one should become a believer in any faith merely because his parents were believers. Each human being has the privilege of investigating and deciding the issues for himself.

"Parents should give children both spiritual and material education. The child should be told about the history and teachings of all the great messengers of God. This will forestall prejudice at an early age, and will be the basis of future choice.

"Parents should exemplify the teachings of God in their daily lives with their children. This example has the attraction of love, not compulsion. Each soul must be free to choose its own path; each soul is king of its own spiritual destiny."

THE RIGHT APPLE

When there are so many apples on the tree, how do you pick the right one? This is always the problem of youth. There are so many roads, so many opportunities, so many desires. How do you decide which may be best? And, when you have made a choice, how do you know it is the right one?

Education is society's solution to the quandaries of youth. Fortify the child's mind with knowledge and skills and he'll be ready to make decisions. But secular education offers no basis for meeting dilemmas that are not secular. Youth desperately needs moral and religious education as well. Every Sunday in our churches millions of fortunate youngsters are receiving the vital spiritual training which our complicated life demands. Their parents generally come with them. For grownups wise enough to understand their children's needs, realize their own as well!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dear Abby: Shock Always Comes

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married. He is married. Through working together we fell in love. Or—I did. It's the same old story. I was old enough to know what I was doing and so was he. Before long, the mutual attraction became stronger than we could control. He convinced me that we could share our love without hurting our families. For a while I never knew such happiness could be had on earth. Suddenly he cast me aside as nonchalantly as you would a banana peel. He told me that I was immoral and unworthy to be called a wife and mother, and that I should change my way of living etc., etc. I had never succumbed to a man's charms before, and I never will again. But maybe if you published this it might prevent some other woman from making the same mistake. Thank you for letting me unburden to you. There is no one else I could tell.

A DEVOTED FAN

DEAR FAN: Sadly enough, my publishing your letter probably will not jolt one woman who is having an affair. (They're jolt-proof.) But it may cushion the shock when it finally comes—as it always does.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a sister who tells everyone she has no sisters or brothers—that they are all dead? She also tells people that her parents are dead. The truth is she has a living mother and she also has three sister and two brothers who are living. The ironic part of this whole situation is that she is the one everyone in the family did the most for. Why is it that the one you do everything for always hurts you the most?

SNUBBED

DEAR SNUBBED: Some people never forgive you for what you do for them because they can't bear the burden of indebtedness. It's easier for your sister to bury the whole family with one sentence than to acknowledge their help.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend who lives at the other end of town so we don't get to see each other as often as we'd like, but we talk on the phone almost every day. When I call her I always ask if she's busy and she says no. But she is forever running to watch something she has on the stove, or else she is trying to keep an eye on the children while talking to me. This just about drives me crazy. Should I tell her that those interruptions bother me? I don't want to hurt her feelings.

DEAR FRIEND: Why not ask your friend to call YOU when she is able to converse without interruption?

Mental Health Program Discussed at CCL Meet

Mrs. Marion S. Wells, executive director of the Ohio Mental Health Association, was guest speaker when the Child Conservation League met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Luna, N. Court St.

The speaker told the group that the work they are doing is a definite adjunct to the program being carried on by volunteers in the mental health movement. Citing decreasing mental hospital figures that have been noted with each recent passing year as community efforts have increased, the mental health leader complimented the people of Pickaway County for organizing a mental health association which recently joined the OMHA.

Mrs. Wells said that there are only 4 persons from Pickaway County who are patients in the Columbus State Hospital and 10 in residence at the Columbus State School for the retarded. "With full operation of laws now on the books, efforts of the Child Conservation League, the new County Mental Health Association and other community organizations these figures can and will decrease," she predicted.

She reviewed the 34 year old history of the Ohio Mental Health Association and stated that only with the involvement of citizens has the progress of recent years been possible. Mrs. Wells stated that a combination program of community leadership throughout the state for education legislation, and action at every level has brought about changes never dreamed possible.

She said, "We must not let down now. Our communities will, in the not too distant future, be able to offer more and better facilities, to prove further, mental illness is a sickness that can be cured."

Speaking of possible new facilities Mrs. Wells referred to Federal grants that will become available for comprehensive mental health centers throughout the nation. "These will go to those places which have prepared themselves for them," she said.

She added that citizens, many of them from the Ohio Mental Health Assn. and its county chapters are now engaged in a survey with the state of Ohio looking toward a better tomorrow. She also urged that citizens aid with the OMHA legislative program which will begin next year at the state level.

Mrs. Roger May presided during the business session and announced the appointment of the following two officers: Mrs. Glenn McCoy, president; Mrs. Ed Grigg, vice president.

Mrs. George Young reported on the ways and means committee suggestions for the year. Mrs. Grigg gave the project report.

The following committees were listed: Project — Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, Mrs. G. A. Wyllie and Mrs. William Richards. Ways and means — Mrs. George Young, Mrs. Walter Yamarick, Mrs. Richard Moore and Mrs. C. K. Vaughan. Budget — Mrs. F. O. Patrick, Mrs. Clifford Bowser, Mrs. Richard Plum, Press — Mrs. Donald Hill, Mrs. Plum. Scrapbook — Mrs. Robert Cole. Tellers — Mrs. Donald Humphreys, Mrs. Robert Waverling, Program, Mrs. Luna, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Robert Cole and Mrs. Hill.

Dear Abby: Shock Always Comes

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married. He is married. Through working together we fell in love. Or—I did. It's the same old story. I was old enough to know what I was doing and so was he. Before long, the mutual attraction became stronger than we could control. He convinced me that we could share our love without hurting our families. For a while I never knew such happiness could be had on earth. Suddenly he cast me aside as nonchalantly as you would a banana peel. He told me that I was immoral and unworthy to be called a wife and mother, and that I should change my way of living etc., etc. I had never succumbed to a man's charms before, and I never will again. But maybe if you published this it might prevent some other woman from making the same mistake. Thank you for letting me unburden to you. There is no one else I could tell.

A DEVOTED FAN

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a sister who tells everyone she has no sisters or brothers—that they are all dead? She also tells people that her parents are dead. The truth is she has a living mother and she also has three sister and two brothers who are living. The ironic part of this whole situation is that she is the one everyone in the family did the most for. Why is it that the one you do everything for always hurts you the most?

DEAR SNUBBED:

Some people never forgive you for what you do for them because they can't bear the burden of indebtedness. It's easier for your sister to bury the whole family with one sentence than to acknowledge their help.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend who lives at the other end of town so we don't get to see each other as often as we'd like, but we talk on the phone almost every day. When I call her I always ask if she's busy and she says no. But she is forever running to watch something she has on the stove, or else she is trying to keep an eye on the children while talking to me. This just about drives me crazy. Should I tell her that those interruptions bother me? I don't want to hurt her feelings.

DEAR FRIEND: Why not ask your friend to call YOU when she is able to converse without interruption?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WILLIAM IN BALTIMORE:" He who desires to achieve success must not be afraid of criticism; for fear of criticism is the kiss of death in the courtship of achievement.

Mental Health Program Discussed at CCL Meet

Mrs. Marion S. Wells, executive director of the Ohio Mental Health Association, was guest speaker when the Child Conservation League met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Luna, N. Court St.

The speaker told the group that the work they are doing is a definite adjunct to the program being carried on by volunteers in the mental health movement. Citing decreasing mental hospital figures that have been noted with each recent passing year as community efforts have increased, the mental health leader complimented the people of Pickaway County for organizing a mental health association which recently joined the OMHA.

Mrs. Wells said that there are only 4 persons from Pickaway County who are patients in the Columbus State Hospital and 10 in residence at the Columbus State School for the retarded. "With full operation of laws now on the books, efforts of the Child Conservation League, the new County Mental Health Association and other community organizations these figures can and will decrease," she predicted.

She reviewed the 34 year old history of the Ohio Mental Health Association and stated that only with the involvement of citizens has the progress of recent years been possible. Mrs. Wells stated that a combination program of community leadership throughout the state for education legislation, and action at every level has brought about changes never dreamed possible.

She said, "We must not let down now. Our communities will, in the not too distant future, be able to offer more and better facilities, to prove further, mental illness is a sickness that can be cured."

Speaking of possible new facilities Mrs. Wells referred to Federal grants that will become available for comprehensive mental health centers throughout the nation. "These will go to those places which have prepared themselves for them," she said.

She added that citizens, many of them from the Ohio Mental Health Assn. and its county chapters are now engaged in a survey with the state of Ohio looking toward a better tomorrow. She also urged that citizens aid with the OMHA legislative program which will begin next year at the state level.

Mrs. Roger May presided during the business session and announced the appointment of the following two officers: Mrs. Glenn McCoy, president; Mrs. Ed Grigg, vice president.

Mrs. George Young reported on the ways and means committee suggestions for the year. Mrs. Grigg gave the project report.

The following committees were listed: Project — Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, Mrs. G. A. Wyllie and Mrs. William Richards. Ways and means — Mrs. George Young, Mrs. Walter Yamarick, Mrs. Richard Moore and Mrs. C. K. Vaughan. Budget — Mrs. F. O. Patrick, Mrs. Clifford Bowser, Mrs. Richard Plum, Press — Mrs. Donald Hill, Mrs. Plum, Scrapbook — Mrs. Robert Cole, Tellers — Mrs. Donald Humphreys, Mrs. Robert Wavering, Program, Mrs. Luna, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Robert Cole and Mrs. Hill. Mrs. George Young will be hostess for the next meeting.

New Premier Of Congo To Miss Deadline

LONDON (AP) — Moise Tshombe is not going to make his deadline for showing the world a new Congo in three months.

The flamboyant, fast-talking secessionist leader from Katanga took office as premier in Leopoldville July 10 with the brash promise to reform Africa's problem child.

With one month to go, Tshombe and the world are still faced with the same old Congo — sullen, rebellious and dangerous.

Tshombe has added one new and refreshing ingredient to the Congolese stew, a political leader who is constantly on the move and who acts. His stated objectives for the Congo — national reconciliation, prosperity and peace — are beyond reproach.

The Congolese central government has not seen a leader with his energy and dash since that unhappy days of the late Premier Patrice Lumumba.

But Tshombe is being defeated by the same enemies that have frustrated the Congo's leaders from the beginning of independence four years ago — tribal hatreds, political immaturity, corruption and apathy.

With or without the assistance of the Organization of African Unity, these are formidable foes. Most of Africa's leaders are fighting the same enemies at home with varying success.

Tshombe, now dedicated to a unified Congo, is at present facing rebellions in Kwilu, North Katanga, Kivu and Oriental provinces. Stanleyville, one of the country's most important cities, is in rebel hands.

Red Chinese diplomats and agents openly are supporting the rebels with money and advice on guerrilla tactics. They have been operating through rebel headquarters established in Brazzaville and Bujumbura with the complacent assent of the Congo's neighbors, the Congo Republic and Burundi.

African nationalist leaders have criticized the United States for supporting Tshombe's central government after opposing him when he was trying to take Katanga out of the Congo. A small number of U.S. transport planes and trucks have been placed at the disposal of the Congolese national army.

Washington says there has been no reversal of U.S. policy in the Congo. From the first day of independence, Washington has worked and spent its money for a united Congo, strong and prosperous enough to fill a strategic area in the heart of Africa.

What is going on in the Congolese provinces is not war in the accepted sense. It is a kind of intertribal mayhem which has been practiced in the Congo for centuries.

It has a particularly menacing significance now because it is being deliberately provoked by political dissidents supported by Chinese Communists.

The real losers are the patient and backward people of the Congo. They have been waiting four years for the bloodshed to cease and the independent Congo to produce the prosperity and peace promised by their leaders.

Pickaway Teachers To Hear Freedoms Foundation Leader

The 12,000-member Central Ohio Teachers Assn. will hold its 93rd annual convention in Columbus September 18, N. Lance Shreffler, president of the organization, announced today. Shreffler is an Upper Arlington High School guidance counselor.

Pickaway County and Circleville schools will be closed all day on September 18 to enable teachers to attend the convention.

The theme of the convention is "Foundations of Freedom."

The day's activities will open with a general session at 9:30 a. m. in St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus. Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation, will deliver the keynote address. His topic is "Can the World Be Fed and Free?" Dr. Wells, a native Ohioan, is one of the founders of the Freedoms Foundation, a non-profit, non-political, and non-sectarian organization. His efforts to encourage Americans to develop a keen appreciation of their unique heritage has earned Dr. Wells national recognition and many awards.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Sept. 11, the 255th day of 1964. There are 111 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814, a fleet built in the New York state forests by young Lt. Thomas McDonough, defeated a British fleet in the Battle of Lake Champlain. The victory saved the United States from an invasion by 11,000 of the Duke of Wellington's veterans of the Napoleonic Wars.

On this date: In 1609, Henry Hudson discovered the island of Manhattan.

In 1941, construction of the world's largest office building, the Pentagon in Washington, was started.

Ten years ago — Hurricane Edna passed over Cape Cod, Mass., Maine and New Brunswick, Canada, killing 23 persons.

Five years ago — The heir-presumptive to the throne of the Netherlands, Princess Beatrix, arrived in New York to take part in the 350th anniversary celebration of Henry Hudson's exploration of the Hudson River Valley.

One year ago — the United States advised President Ngo Dinh Diem to remove his brother, Gao Dinh Nhu, from the South Viet Nam government.

City Firefighters Douse Auto Blaze

The Circleville Fire Department was called to 1338 S. Court St. 1:45 a. m. yesterday to douse a small fire in the front seat of an auto.

The car was owned by Charles Hammond. Damage was estimated at $15.

DR. KENNETH WELLS

Dr. Kenneth Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation, will deliver the keynote address at the convention.

Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of the Columbus Public Schools, will open the general session with a brief address of welcome. Musical selections will be presented by the Upper Arlington High School Band and Concert Choir.

At noon, the teachers will divide into 38 groups to take part in luncheon and afternoon discussions covering virtually every facet of education. Discussion topics will feature new ideas and promising trends in the school world.

Among speakers drawn from universities, business, and industry to be heard at the sectional meetings are:

Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, dean of the School of Music, Indiana University; Dr. Patricia O'Connor, reading specialist from Brown University and consultant to the U. S. Office of Education; Dr. Charles Wilson, superintendent of schools at Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

Dr. Robert Lee Morton, a leader in the modern-mathematics movement and former member of the Ohio University faculty; Dr. Lucille Lindberg, kindergarten authority from Queens College, New York City, and former Fulbright Lecturer in Australia;

D. Jesse H. Shera, dean of the School of Library Science at Western Reserve University; Thomas Herbert Clark, president and general manager of The Clark Metal Products Co.; Marion John M. Harris, vice president (finance) of Quick Manufacturing, Inc., Springfield; and Everett C. Lindsey, motivation engineer for the Gulf Oil Corporation.

During the convention, the Association will hold a business meeting to be highlighted by the election of officers for the 1964-65 school year. Dr. Robert S. Brown, superintendent of schools at Marion, is president-elect.

The convention will be attended by C.O.T.A. members from Champaign, Clark, Delaware, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Licking, Logan, Madison Marion, Pickaway, Ross and Union counties and the Mt. Vernon City School District.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Cummings is a television star of considerable distinction.

He has survived, with no visible scars, involvement in three situation comedy series and has now embarked on his fourth. He is also one of a finite group of actors who permits the inclusion of his birth year (1910) in his official biography — and whose extraordinarily youthful appearance permits him to be cast as a youthful, susceptible bachelor.

Cummings this season emerges as a bachelor psychiatrist who accidentally becomes the uncomfortable custodian of a gorgeous robot named Rhoda whose plastic exterior and computer-innards were made for space experiments. The CBS series is called "My Living Doll," and the actor seems fascinated more by the problems facing his co-star, Julie Newmar, than by his own part.

Miss Newmar, the robot, was playing a scene in which she is flirting brazenly with a male visitor because her computer has inadvertently been "programmed" with some romance magazines.

"This is probably the most difficult role ever played by an actress," Cummings commented — if that's what you call it — she plays has no thoughts, no emotions, no desires, no ethics, no social conscience. It is very difficult because she cannot instigate anything and she cannot feel anything. She must divorce herself completely from her ego — which is the hardest thing in the world to do."

"I've Got a Secret," will start its 13th season Monday night on CBS combining a farewell program for Garry Moore, who is leaving after all these years, with a greeting program for Steve Allen, who takes over the host's job. The switch-over program actually was taped some time back, since Moore and his wife sailed last week for England on the first leg of a year-long round-the-world trip.

"Hollywood Palace," ABC's Saturday night variety show, will start its second season Sept. 19 with an innovation — a hostess, Debbie Reynolds will be the first woman to handle the introductions of the acts.

Recommended weekend viewing: Saturday — Olympic Games trials, ABC, 9:30-10:30 p.m. (Eastern Daylight Time); "Miss America Pageant," CBS, 10 to conclusion, finals, live from Atlantic City.

Sunday — "Wide World of Entertainment," ABC, 9-10 p.m., variety special with Bing Crosby as host, kicking off the network's new season; "The Rogues," NBC, 10-11, premiere program of new comedy-adventure series starring Charles Boyer, David Niven and Gig Young.

Minnesota City Built on Medics

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Some towns are built on a mining industry, some on steel, some on lumber. Rochester is built on doctors.

If you walked the streets of this southern Minnesota city, and could count on meeting a cross-section of its population, every forty-fifth person would be a physician.

Rochester is the home of the Mayo Clinic, which this year will mark its 100th birthday.

The clinic has become a magnet for the famous — and for persons wanting top medical diagnoses or with ailments that have baffled their local doctors.

Kings and queens, heads of state, persons prominent in the entertainment, sports and business worlds are such frequent patients at Mayo's that their presence creates little stir in this town of 45,000.

So are people with uncommon troubles — malfunctioning hearts, rare eye disorders, torn limbs they hope to save from amputation.

The clinic takes them all — nearly 2,600,000 to date.

While it shuns publicity and protects its patients' privacy, the clinic is marking its centennial with more than 50 scientific meetings.

Wooded hills flank Rochester and give way to typical farming country nearby, but there is no mistaking that Rochester grew on and for the clinic.

It all began in 1864 when a native of Manchester, England, Dr. William Worrall Mayo, came to the then hamlet of 3,000 and began practice.

Two sons, William James and Charles Horace, became doctors and began to practice with their father. After he died, Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie, as they were known, took on three other doctors in what came to be known informally as the Mayo Clinic.

By 1914 they had their own building — a two-story red brick structure that still stands in contrast to the two Mayo skyscrapers, and serves as a laboratory.

The clinic grew in scope and reputation. Its first large building, a 15-story structure of tan Italian marble, topped by a six-story bell tower, was completed in 1939. Two other buildings have since joined it. Clinic hospital patients are treated chiefly in two large Rochester hospitals, separately owned but working closely with the clinic.

Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie died within a few months of each other in 1939.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, son of Charles H., formally retired from the clinic and as chairman of its board last October, at 65.

The Mayo name is carried on at the clinic by his son, an intern, Dr. Charles H. Mayo II, 33, represents the fourth generation of Mayos at the clinic.

The clinic has a professional staff of 400 doctors, and 600 more, including 50 from abroad, studying under its fellowship program.

Two Mayo doctors, Edward C. Kendall and Philip S. Hench, won a Nobel Prize in 1950 for their work with cortisone.

A special stamp, to go on sale in Rochester today, will honor these and other Mayo achievements in its centennial.

Solons' Wives Plan Ohio Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wives of Ohio's two Democratic senators and of a cabinet officer will accompany Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on her two-day trip to Ohio next week, the White House said today.

They are Mrs. Frank J. Lausche and Mrs. Stephen M. Young and Mrs. Anthony J. Celebrezze, wife of the secretary of welfare who once was mayor of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Johnson will attend a reception in Akron on Sept. 17, given by Frances McGovern, candidate for Congress. The First Lady will deliver her first formal speech of the 1964 campaign in Columbus Sept. 18 at a luncheon meeting of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio.

His efforts to encourage Americans to develop a keen appreciation of their unique heritage has earned Dr. Wells national recognition and many awards.

Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of the Columbus Public Schools, will open the general session with a brief address of welcome. Musical selections will be presented by the Upper Arlington High School Band and Concert Choir.

At noon, the teachers will divide into 38 groups to take part in luncheon and afternoon discussions covering virtually every facet of education. Discussion topics will feature new ideas and promising trends in the school world.

Among speakers drawn from universities, business, and industry to be heard at the sectional meetings are:

Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, dean of the School of Music, Indiana University; Dr. Patricia O'Connor, reading specialist from Brown University and consultant to the U. S. Office of Education; Dr. Charles Wilson, superintendent of schools at Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

Dr. Robert Lee Morton, a leader in the modern-mathematics movement and former member of the Ohio University faculty; Dr. Lucille Lindberg, kindergarten authority from Queens College, New York City, and former Fulbright Lecturer in Australia;

D. Jesse H. Shera, dean of the School of Library Science at Western Reserve University; Thomas Herbert Clark, president and general manager of The Clark Metal Products Co.; Marion; John M. Harris, vice president (finance) of Quick Manufacturing, Inc., Springfield; and Everett C. Lindsey, motivation engineer for the Gulf Oil Corporation.

During the convention, the Association will hold a business meeting to be highlighted by the election of officers for the 1964-65 school year. Dr. Robert S. Brown, superintendent of schools at Marion, is president-elect.

The convention will be attended by C.O.T.A. members from Champaign, Clark, Delaware, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Licking, Logan, Madison, Marion, Pickaway, Ross and Union counties and the Mt. Vernon City School District.

He has survived, with no visible scars, involvement in three situation comedy series and has now embarked on his fourth. He is also one of a finite group of actors who permits the inclusion of his birth year (1910) in his official biography — and whose extraordinarily youthful appearance permits him to be cast as a youthful, susceptible bachelor.

Cummings this season emerges as a bachelor psychiatrist who accidentally becomes the uncomfortable custodian of a gorgeous robot named Rhoda whose plastic exterior and computer-innards were made for space experiments. The CBS series is called "My Living Doll," and the actor seems fascinated more by the problems facing his co-star, Julie Newmar, than by his own part.

Miss Newmar, the robot, was playing a scene in which she is flirting brazenly with a male visitor because her computer has inadvertently been "programmed" with some romance magazines.

"This is probably the most difficult role ever played by an actress," Cummings commented — if that's what you call it — she plays has no thoughts, no emotions, no desires, no ethics, no social conscience. It is very difficult because she cannot instigate anything and she cannot feel anything. She must divorce herself completely from her ego — which is the hardest thing in the world to do."

"I've Got a Secret," will start its 13th season Monday night on CBS combining a farewell program for Garry Moore, who is leaving after all these years, with a greeting program for Steve Allen, who takes over the host's job. The switch-over program actually was taped some time back, since Moore and his wife sailed last week for England on the first leg of a year-long round-the-world trip.

"Hollywood Palace," ABC's Saturday night variety show, will start its second season Sept. 19 with an innovation — a hostess. Debbie Reynolds will be the first woman to handle the introductions of the acts.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Saturday — Olympic Games trials, ABC, 9:30-10:30 p.m. (Eastern Daylight Time); "Miss America Pageant," CBS, 10 to conclusion, finals, live from Atlantic City.

Sunday — "Wide World of Entertainment," ABC, 9-10 p.m., variety special with Bing Crosby as host, kicking off the network's new season; "The Rogues," NBC, 10-11, premiere program of new comedy-adventure series starring Charles Boyer, David Niven and Gig Young.

Minnesota City Built on Medics

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Some towns are built on a mining industry, some on steel, some on lumber. Rochester is built on doctors.

If you walked the streets of this southern Minnesota city, and could count on meeting a cross-section of its population, every forty-fifth person would be a physician.

Rochester is the home of the Mayo Clinic, which this year will mark its 100th birthday.

The clinic has become a magnet for the famous — and for persons wanting top medical diagnoses or with ailments that have baffled their local doctors.

Kings and queens, heads of state, persons prominent in the entertainment, sports and business worlds are such frequent patients at Mayo's that their presence creates little stir in this town of 45,000.

So are people with uncommon troubles — malfunctioning hearts, rare eye disorders, torn limbs they hope to save from amputation.

The clinic takes them all — nearly 2,600,000 to date. While it shuns publicity and protects its patients' privacy, the clinic is marking its centennial with more than 50 scientific meetings.

Wooded hills flank Rochester and give way to typical farming country nearby, but there is no mistaking that Rochester grew on and for the clinic.

It all began in 1864 when a native of Manchester, England, Dr. William Worrall Mayo, came to the then hamlet of 3,000 and began practice.

Two sons, William James and Charles Horace, became doctors and began to practice with their father. After he died, Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie, as they were known, took on three other doctors in what came to be known informally as the Mayo Clinic.

By 1914 they had their own building — a two-story red brick structure that still stands in contrast to the two Mayo skyscrapers, and serves as a laboratory.

The clinic grew in scope and reputation. Its first large building, a 15-story structure of tan Italian marble, topped by a six-story bell tower, was completed in 1939. Two other buildings have since joined it. Clinic hospital patients are treated chiefly in two large Rochester hospitals, separately owned but working closely with the clinic.

Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie died within a few months of each other in 1939.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, son of Charles H., formally retired from the clinic and as chairman of its board last October, at 65.

The Mayo name is carried on at the clinic by his son, an intern. Dr. Charles H. Mayo II, 33, represents the fourth generation of Mayos at the clinic.

The clinic has a professional staff of 400 doctors, and 600 more, including 50 from abroad, studying under its fellowship program.

Two Mayo doctors, Edward C. Kendall and Philip S. Hench, won a Nobel Prize in 1950 for their work with cortisone.

A special stamp, to go on sale in Rochester today, will honor these and other Mayo achievements in this centennial.

Solons' Wives Plan Ohio Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wives of Ohio's two Democratic senators and of a cabinet officer will accompany Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on her two-day trip to Ohio next week, the White House said today.

They are Mrs. Frank J. Lausche and Mrs. Stephen M. Young and Mrs. Anthony J. Celebrezze, wife of the secretary of welfare who once was mayor of Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Johnson will attend a reception in Akron on Sept. 17, given by Frances McGovern, candidate for Congress. The First Lady will deliver her first formal speech of the 1964 campaign in Columbus Sept. 18 at a luncheon meeting of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Sept. 11, the 255th day of 1964. There are 111 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814, a fleet built in the New York state forests by young Lt. Thomas Macdonough, defeated a British fleet in the Battle of Lake Champlain. The victory saved the United States from an invasion by 11,000 of the Duke of Wellington's veterans of the Napoleonic Wars.

On this date: In 1609, Henry Hudson discovered the island of Manhattan. In 1941, construction of the world's largest office building, the Pentagon in Washington, was started.

A Spokesman for God

DELIVER HIS PEOPLE IN AN HOUR OF NEED

Scripture—I Samuel 1-7.

By R. H. RAMSEY

THE BOOK of Judges ends in an era of violence, anarchy and confusion. Israel was surrounded by enemies who, from time to time, made life miserable for them, enslaving many.
Religious life was at a low ebb; the nation was in danger of permanent subjugation and losing its identity as God's chosen people. Only through a great leader could faithfulness to God be restored, enemies subdued and the whole moral tone of the people cleansed and lifted up. The man who was to serve in this capacity was Samuel, the last of the judges.

The story opens with the account of the somewhat miraculous conception of Samuel by Hannah. During an annual sacrifice at the Temple, the unhappy woman, one of the two wives of Elkanah, cries to the Lord because she is barren. If the Lord will give her a son, she promises to dedicate him to God.

The Lord grants Hannah's prayer, and in due time she triumphantly presents the infant missing them from the priesthood. He foretold that Eli's line would be cut off from the priesthood for their worldliness.

Then God called young Samuel, revealing to him the coming destruction of Eli's sons for their iniquities.

The prophecies are fulfilled when the Philistines wage war on the Israelites. Eli's sons are slain the day the Philistines capture the Ark of the Covenant. Hearing of the double disaster, Eli falls dead and Samuel succeeds him as judge of Israel.

In everything we have seen of Samuel's life thus far, God has been obeyed and Samuel's conscience is void of offense to God and man. With the roots of his life firmly established, one can expect a mature life, strength, character, wisdom in hours of crisis, and power in delivering the Word of God. All these traits marked the subsequent years of Samuel.

In order that Israel might learn a lesson before being brought into a new era of blessing, and that the Philistines might learn He is infinitely

Samuel to Eli. Then follows Hannah's famous hymn of praise, a song of thanksgiving and confidence in the Lord, which has been likened to the Magnificat of Mary (Luke 1:46-55).

Hannah leaves Samuel in the temple of Shiloh and the old priest brings him up in the service of the Lord. Historians present us with an appealing picture of Samuel doing every possible thing to keep God's house in order and beauty, serving the Lord according to his age and capabilities. Each year when Hannah came to the temple to make sacrifice, she brought her son a coat which she made bigger and bigger as he grew to be a man.

Eli had two grown sons who, because they were descended from Aaron, were his successors to the priesthood. Through their greed and immoral conduct, they brought shame and disgrace to the religious practices of Israel.

An unnamed man of God came to Eli, rebuking him for not disciplining his sons or discarding on copyrighted outlines produced

National Council of Churches of Christ greater than any false god, God permitted the capture of the Ark. Though a major disaster to Israel, it brought only misfortune to the Philistines.

First, the statue of their god
Dagon is found mysteriously fallen and broken. Then they are smitten with a plague of emerods, or tumors, a characteristic symptom of the Oriental plague. Terrified, they return the Ark to Israel, accompanied by rich gifts. There it rested for 20 years, a period in which no religious work was done, when the national life of Israel was at a low ebb.

Now Samuel assembles the tribes at Mizpah, marking the second great religious revival in the Bible. Samuel's prayers assured the Lord that the heart of His people was again His;
and implored Him to again restore His repentant, sorrowful people to the Promised Land.

When the Philistines fall upon the assembly, the Israelites, with God's help, subdue them.
Thereafter, Samuel judges Israel—apparently in peace and prosperity—for many years.

Baptist Church

Plans Building

The Rev. Charles J. Stephens, pastor, announced that the First Baptist Church, Ashville, will break ground Sunday morning for a new one story educational building. The brick masonry structure will include 3,000 square feet of floor space and will provide a nursery suite, beginner, junior, intermediate and young people's departments, recreation area and kitchen. Joining the present building at the south entry, it will become the second of four units in a master plan.

The special groundbreaking service will be a part of the morning worship beginning at 10:30 a. m. The building committee includes, Larry Snyder, chairman; Kenneth Replegle, O.
B. McMellon, Jack Bailey and Gene Wilburn. Clark and Sons Construction Company of Columbus will begin construction next week and expect to complete the building by January, 1965.

Indiana Camp Proposed

For Training Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.
Birch Bayh, D-Ind., says his state has proposed a regional work training program at Camp
Atterbury, 30 miles southeast of Indianapolis, under the new anti-poverty bill. Bayh said the camp would handle about 5,000 young people from seven midwestern states, including Ohio.

DELIVER HIS PEOPLE IN AN HOUR OF NEED

Scripture—I Samuel 1-7.

By R. H. Ramsey

THE BOOK of Judges ends in an era of violence, anarchy and confusion. Israel was surrounded by enemies who, from time to time, made life miserable for them, enslaving many. Religious life was at a low ebb; the nation was in danger of permanent subjugation and losing its identity as God's chosen people. Only through a great leader could faithfulness to God be restored, enemies subdued and the whole moral tone of the people cleansed and lifted up. The man who was to serve in this capacity was Samuel, the last of the judges.

The story opens with the account of the somewhat miraculous conception of Samuel by Hannah. During an annual sacrifice at the Temple, this unhappy woman, one of the two wives of Elkanah, cries to the Lord because she is barren. If the Lord will give her a son, she promises to dedicate him to God.

The Lord grants Hannah's prayer, and in due time she triumphantly presents the infant missing them from the priesthood. He foretold that Eli's line would be cut off from the priesthood for their worldliness. Then God called young Samuel, revealing to him the coming destruction of Eli's sons for their iniquities.

The prophecies are fulfilled when the Philistines wage war on the Israelites. Eli's sons are slain the day the Philistines capture the Ark of the Covenant. Hearing of the double disaster, Eli falls dead and Samuel succeeds him as judge of Israel.

In everything we have seen of Samuel's life thus far, God has been obeyed and Samuel's conscience is void of offense to God and man. With the roots of his life firmly established, one can expect a mature life, strength, character, wisdom in hours of crisis, and power in delivering the Word of God. All these traits marked the subsequent years of Samuel.

In order that Israel might learn a lesson before being brought into a new era of blessing, and that the Philistines might learn He is infinitely

GOLDEN TEXT

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."—Proverbs 3:5, 6.

Samuel to Eli. Then follows Hannah's famous hymn of praise, a song of thanksgiving and confidence in the Lord, which has been likened to the Magnificat of Mary (Luke 1:46-55).

Hannah leaves Samuel in the temple of Shiloh and the old priest brings him up in the service of the Lord. Historians present us with an appealing picture of Samuel doing every possible thing to keep God's house in order and beauty, serving the Lord according to his age and capabilities. Each year when Hannah came to the temple to make sacrifice, she brought her son a coat which she made bigger and bigger as he grew to be a man.

Eli had two grown sons who, because they were descended from Aaron, were his successors to the priesthood. Through their greed and immoral conduct, they brought shame and disgrace to the religious practices of Israel.

An unnamed man of God came to Eli, rebuking him for not disciplining his sons or dis-greater than any false god, God permitted the capture of the Ark. Though a major disaster to Israel, it brought only misfortune to the Philistines.

First, the statue of their god Dagon is found mysteriously fallen and broken. Then they are smitten with a plague of emoroids, or tumors, a characteristic symptom of the Oriental plague. Terrified, they return the Ark to Israel, accompanied by rich gifts. There it rested for 20 years, a period in which no religious work was done, when the national life of Israel was at a low ebb.

Now Samuel assembles the tribes at Mizpah, marking the second great religious revival in the Bible. Samuel's prayers assured the Lord that the heart of His people was again His; and implored Him to again restore His repentant, sorrowful people to the Promised Land.

When the Philistines fall upon the assembly, the Israelites, with God's help, subdue them. Thereafter, Samuel judges Israel—apparently in peace and prosperity—for many years.

Phillie Hurler Pitches, Bats Team to Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"I feel I'm a better pitcher than the batter is a hitter," says Chris Short.

The Philadelphia ace proved his mettle again Thursday but this time went one step further.

He showed he was a better hitter than all of the St. Louis batters combined by driving home in the first two runs in the National League-leading Phillies' 5-1 victory over the Cardinals.

Short, in fact, belted two hits — a key triple and a single — in four times at bat.

The 26-year-old hurler came to the plate in the second inning with runners at first and third and one out. He promptly lashed a triple to the right field bullpen, bringing in Tony Taylor and Ruben Amaro with the first two runs of a five-run outburst.

Short's pitching, meanwhile, didn't suffer. He held the Cardinals to six hits while striking out 12 and walking one.

The victory was his 16th — he has seven losses — tying him with Jim Bunning as the team's winningest pitcher. The southpaw's earned run average — 1.89 — is second only to Sandy Koufax' 1.74 among NL pitchers.

Short's over-all performance was particularly vital because the victory boosted the Phillies' lead to six games over St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

A defeat would have moved the Cardinals to within four games of the top with the Phillies facing an important three-game series starting in San Francisco tonight. No one has been as close a four games behind Philadelphia since Aug. 15.

The Reds blanked Pittsburgh 3-0 Friday night while the Giants knocked off Los Angeles 5-1. Milwaukee nipped New York 7-7 and Chicago edged Houston 4-3 in National League afternoon games.

In the American League, Baltimore bombed Washington 12-5, Chicago nipped Minnesota 2-1 in 10 innings, New York downed Detroit 5-2 and Cleveland trimmed Boston 5-4.

World Series Of Golf Due For Start

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Almost everything has arrived for the World Series of Golf except the money — and it is on the way air mail special delivery.

The winners of golf's four major titles — Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols — will square off in the 36-hole television special Saturday and Sunday at the Firestone Country Club course.

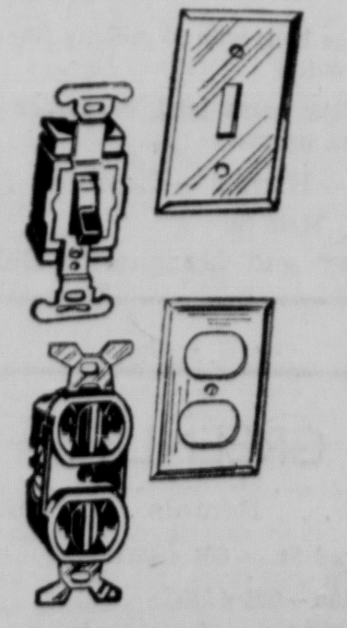

Lema has been playing the poorest golf, comparatively of any of the four champions recently. Palmer, who captured the Masters back in April, also tied for second in the PGA and has been a consistent factor on the tour of late.

Nichols, the PGA titlist, is at the top of his game. He has a tendency to run in streaks and may be on one.

Venturi, the comeback story of the past several years in golf since he won the U.S. Open in the blazing heat of Washington in June, has played beautiful golf all summer.

Possible: No Series Travel After 3-Team Playoff

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1964 World Series will be unique in at least one respect, and possibly in two.

There will be no travel day if only Eastern or only Midwestern teams are involved, breaking the pattern of recent years, and refuting, says Commissioner Ford Frick, the contention that the travel day was inserted in the Series program just to assure a Sunday television game.

Thus, if the Series is between the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League, and the Baltimore Orioles or New York Yankees of the American League, the Series will start Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the Phillies' park for two games, and move immediately to the American League park for the next three games.

If one team were to win four straight in the best four-out-of-seven Series could end on Saturday. If the Series is between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds or St. Louis Cardinals there also will be no open day.

Representatives of the three closely bunched American League teams — White Sox, Yankees, and Orioles — met in Frick's office Thursday with the four National League contenders, the front-running Phillies, plus the Reds, Cardinals, and San Francisco Giants.

These facts were fixed: The Series will open Oct. 7 in the National League park for the first two games, followed by three in the American League park, then two more if needed in the National League park; Ticket prices will be $12 per game for box seats, $8 for reserved, $4 for unreserved and standing room, and $2 for bleachers, in all cases tax included; all games start at 1 p. m., local time; there would be a travel day between changes except in the situations listed.

The second way this Series could be unique is this: The American League race is so close there could even be a three-way tie for first. In that case there would be a round-robin elimination, teams dropping out after losing two games. This could run six days. Even if this could be started on Monday, Oct. 5, the day after the regular season closes, and there were no weather delays, it could run through Oct. 10.

Then there would be an open day, and the Series would start Oct. 12, by which time there could be snow in the air in such cities as Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and possibly Baltimore, and the college and professional football seasons would be approaching the midway point.

If it is just a two way tie in either league, the winner would be settled by a best two-out-of-three playoff.

Knuckleball Paying Off For Purkey

MILWAUKEE (AP) — At 35 years old, Bob Purkey says he still is learning new stuff about his knuckleball.

The big right-hander recorded his 10th victory and second shutout Thursday night, a 3-0 decision over the Pirates at Pittsburgh as Cincinnati moved back into a second place tie in the National League.

The Reds, tied with St. Louis and still six games back of first place Philadelphia, moved to Milwaukee for the first of three weekend games tonight.

Purkey said his knuckleball was working "very good" Thursday night, but "I learned something new."

"I changed my delivery a little and it broke in a different direction," he said. "You can't go consistently with the same stuff."

Purkey said he threw very few curves, "Six or eight at the most. But I do better throwing the knuckleball."

Purkey allowed only five hits. After giving up two singles in the first two innings, he retired the next 14 Pirates in a row. Only one Pittsburgh player reached third base. Purk fanned six and issued no walks.

Fireballer Jim Maloney (13-9) was slated to face the Braves' Denny Lemaster or Hank Fischer tonight.

36,856 Ohio Kids Set for Grid Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio launches its 1964 scholastic football campaign today, with 36,856 youngsters from 707 schools ready for action.

That's the greatest array of teams ever to go for the grid-iron gonfalon in the state, eclipsing last year's record of 684. Consolidation of smaller schools into institutions big enough to support football caused the boost.

Several weeks of practice, along with preview and interscholastic scrimmages, have put the players in top-top shape for the kickoff. The new rules on face masks and mouth guards are expected to keep head injuries at a minimum.

Most of the teams are playing 10-game schedules—and all have an eye on the state championship won a year ago by Niles McKinley and the year before by Massillon Washington. Both have new coaches this year. Tony Manso having left the Dragons of Niles to become an assistant at the University of Michigan, and Leo Strang leaving Massillon to become head coach at Kent State.

However, the Dragons and Tigers are talent-filled outfits ready to make another bid for the laurels. Other powerhouses are certain to pop up all over the state to challenge for the crown.

The championship will be decided again by The Associated Press newspaper and radio-television sports editors voting in the weekly poll. The winner in the final ratings gets the championship and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy emblematic of the title. Ohio is the lone state in which the Rutgers trophy is awarded.

Paul Landis, state high school commissioner, urged today that players, fans and coaches display the greatest sportsmanship during the season. He also deplored the post-game disturbances which marred some of last year's contests — such as those which forced Toledo to abandon night games this season.

Landis said gate receipts would be curtailed as a result of the all-day-game schedule, and that the entire sport picture could be injured. He cited that tax money cannot be used to finance high school sports, which must be self-sustaining—and that football is the big money-maker.

most important game of the weekend openers in pro football. Forget the pre-season exhibition game between the two ancient rivals, won by the Packers 21-7, this is for real. Vince Lombardi and his crew will be all whipped up for a rugged battle with that savage Bear defense.

The Bears started on their way to the title last year by upsetting the Packers in another opening day game, 10-3, but not this time.

The National Football League has one Saturday night opener when the highly regarded St. Louis Cardinals play in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas against the pass-minded Cowboys.

Sunday action in the NFL

Tribe Hurler's Homer Helps Assure Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—A home run—his own—was a boon to Cleveland pitcher Sonny Siebert, but a pinch home run off the Indians rookie almost was his downfall.

Siebert socked a vital two-run blast in Cleveland's 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday night.

But a two-run shot by Tony Conigliaro, in the eighth inning, sent him to the showers and ignited a rally that almost cost Cleveland the game.

Siebert's second homer of his brief major league career was one of eight hits the Indians collected off four Boston hurlers. Chico Salmon followed that with a blast of his own, also in the fifth inning.

Siebert broke a 2-2 tie and Salmon's turned out to be the winning margin.

Conigliaro tagged his after Bob Tillman had doubled in the eighth. That shot, the second allowed by Siebert, brought on Don McMahon, who gave up consecutive singles to Dalton Jones and Felix Mantilla. Cari Yastrzemski bounced into a double play to end the inning, however.

McMahon set down the Red Sox in order in the ninth.

Jack Kralick (11-4) will pitch against the Chicago White Sox here tonight. He'll face Gary Peters (16-8).

finds the New York Giants, who beat only Philadelphia in the exhibition season, starting the defense of their Eastern Conference title against the same Eagles at Franklin Field in Philadelphia.

The Washington Redskins will be at home to Cleveland's flashy offense. Baltimore will be at Minnesota to give the Vikings, 5-0 in exhibitions, a stern threat. Detroit opens at San Francisco and Los Angeles at Pittsburgh.

The American Football League, buoyed by forthcoming new television money, starts its fifth season with two Saturday night games and two Sunday. The defending champion San Diego Chargers will be at home to Houston in one Saturday game and the New York Jets, the surprise of the exhibition season, play their first game at new Shea Stadium home against Denver. In the Sunday games Kansas City will be at Buffalo and Boston at Oakland.

Here's the way it looks from here for the openers: (All games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NFL
St. Louis 21, Dallas 13 (Saturday night) — Cards' Charley Johnson throws too many bombs for the Cowboy defense. Dallas still trying to get organized on offense.

Green Bay 17, Chicago 7 — Hornung and Co. control the ball against the Bears. George Halas still having problems with attack. Winner of this should go on to Western title.

Cleveland 24, Washington 20 — Browns' new air arm, with Paul Warfield added to receive.

ing corps, balances Jim Brown's ground punch. Sonny Jurgensen, Bobby Mitchell and Charley Taylor will make it close. Chance for an upset.

Baltimore 21, Minnesota 17 — Johnny Unitas is on the beam and has a new runner, Tony Loric, to help control the ball.

New York 28, Philadelphia 17 — Y. A. Tittle finally swings into action for a full day. Eagles tougher on defense but still experimenting.

Los Angeles 21, Pittsburgh 17 — A toughie. Rams have been erratic on attack with rookie Bill Munson doing best job. Steelers have shown little punch and defense not up to par.

Detroit 21, San Francisco 7 — Terry Barr and Gail Cogdill to pick on 49ers deep defense while big rush line gives John Brodie and George Mira a tough day.

AFL
San Diego 35, Houston 21 (Saturday night) — Chargers ready to start rolling again with Keith Lincoln and Co. taking dead aim at experimenting Oilers.

New York 21, Denver 17 — Jets primed for top-flight effort in bow at new stadium, with Dick Wood in best form of career. Jets might run it up.

Buffalo 17, Kansas City 14 — Bills reverse earlier exhibition score by containing Abner Haynes. Buffalo's home jinx and pass defense chinks give Chiefs big chance but this should be Buffalo's year.

Oakland 21, Boston 7 — Al Davis' "Poor Little Raiders" are red hot again and Patriots haven't even won an exhibition game.

"I feel I'm a better pitcher than the batter is a hitter," says Chris Short.

Twin Double Payoff Hits $172,726.80

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Robert Froner, his wife of four months, his in-laws and two friends drove out to Roosevelt Raceway in a 1956 Oldsmobile Thursday night.

They could have used a Brink's Truck to get back to their Brooklyn home.

Froner, a 22-year-old architectural draftsman who was trying his hand at the Twin Double for only the second time, rode off with the biggest payoff in TD history — $172,726.80.

The youngster, who has been married only four months, said he had taken his father-in-law's advice betting the last two races after the 4-1 combination had left him with 42 live tickets after the first half of the twin.

"We wheeled six horses in the eighth race and seven in the ninth," he said. "I was standing by the escalator in the last race and when they headed into the stretch and I knew that Roslyn J. was in front, I just prayed."

Froner, his wife Mary, his in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Gaspari Iaci and Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Cardile, all of Brooklyn, had bet on War Haven $19.70, in the sixth race and The Operator, $8.40, in the seventh. Their mammoth victory was completed when Don Roberto, $75.80, won the eighth and Roslyn J., $17, took the ninth. The winning numbers were 4-1-8-8.

First string backs Tom Barrington of Lima, Bo Rein of Niles and Will Sander of Cincinnati returned to action Thursday after missing Wednesday's drills because of minor injuries.

most important game of the weekend openers in pro football. Forget the pre-season exhibition game between the two ancient rivals, won by the Packers 21-7, this is for real. Vince Lombardi and his crew will be all whipped up for a rugged battle with that savage Bear defense.

The Bears started on their way to the title last year by upsetting the Packers in another opening day game, 10-3, but not this time.

The National Football League has one Saturday night opener when the highly regarded St. Louis Cardinals play in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas against the pass-minded Cowboys.

Sunday action in the NFL

Tribe Hurler's Homer Helps Assure Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—A home run—his own—was a boon to Cleveland pitcher Sonny Siebert, but a pinch home run off the Indians rookie almost was his downfall.

Siebert socked a vital two-run blast in Cleveland's 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday night.

But a two-run shot by Tony Conigliaro, in the eighth inning, sent him to the showers and ignited a rally that almost cost Cleveland the game.

Siebert's second homer of his brief major league career was one of eight hits the Indians collected off four Boston hurlers. Chico Salmon followed that with a blast of his own, also in the fifth inning.

Siebert's broke a 2-2 tie and Salmon's turned out to be the winning margin.

Conigliaro tagged his after Bob Tillman had doubled in the eighth. That shot, the second allowed by Siebert, brought on Don McMahon, who gave up consecutive singles to Dalton Jones and Felix Mantilla. Cari Yastrzemski bounced into a double play to end the inning, however.

McMahon set down the Red Sox in order in the ninth.

Jack Kralick (11-4) will pitch against the Chicago White Sox here tonight. He'll face Gary Peters (16-8).

finds the New York Giants, who beat only Philadelphia in the exhibition season, starting the defense of their Eastern Conference title against the same Eagles at Franklin Field in Philadelphia.

The Washington Redskins will be at home to Cleveland's flashy offense. Baltimore will be at Minnesota to give the Vikings, 5-0 in exhibitions, a stern threat. Detroit opens at San Francisco and Los Angeles at Pittsburgh.

The American Football League, buoyed by forthcoming new television money, starts its fifth season with two Saturday night games and two Sunday. The defending champion San Diego Chargers will be at home to Houston in one Saturday game and the New York Jets, the surprise of the exhibition season, play their first game at new Shea Stadium home against Denver. In the Sunday games Kansas City will be at Buffalo and Boston at Oakland.

Here's the way it looks from here for the openers: (All games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NFL

St. Louis 21, Dallas 13 (Saturday night) — Cards' Charley Johnson throws too many bombs for the Cowboy defense. Dallas still trying to get organized on offense.

Green Bay 17, Chicago 7 — Hornung and Co. control the ball against the Bears. George Halas still having problems with attack. Winner of this should go on to Western title.

Cleveland 24, Washington 20 — Browns' new air arm, with Paul Warfield added to receive-

ing corps, balances Jim Brown's ground punch. Sonny Jurgensen, Bobby Mitchell and Charley Taylor will make it close. Chance for an upset.

Baltimore 21, Minnesota 17 — Johnny Unitas is on the beam and has a new runner, Tony Lorick, to help control the ball.

New York 28, Philadelphia 17 — Y. A. Tittle finally swings into action for a full day. Eagles tougher on defense but still experimenting.

Los Angeles 21, Pittsburgh 17 — A toughie. Rams have been erratic on attack with rookie Bill Munson doing best job. Steelers have shown little punch and defense not up to par.

Detroit 21, San Francisco 7 — Terry Barr and Gail Cogdill to pick on 49ers deep defense while big rush line gives John Brodie and George Mira a tough day.

AFL

San Diego 35, Houston 21 (Saturday night) — Chargers ready to start rolling again with Keith Lincoln and Co. taking dead aim at experimenting Oilers.

New York 21, Denver 17 — Jets primed for top-flight effort in bow at new stadium, with Dick Wood in best form of career. Jets might run it up.

Buffalo 17, Kansas City 14 — Bills reverse earlier exhibition score by containing Abner Haynes. Buffalo's home jinx and pass defense chinks give Chiefs big chance but this should be Buffalo's year.

Oakland 21, Boston 7 — Al Davis' "Poor Little Raiders" are red hot again and Patriots haven't even won an exhibition game.

Laurelville News

By Mrs. Ray Poling

The Woman Society of Christian Service met recently at the church with Mrs. Robert West and Mrs. Tom Rose as hostesses.

Mrs. Robert West played on the organ "How Great Thou Art" as the prelude. Mrs. George Bowers was in charge of the program. Those helping with the topic of the program were Mrs. Winifred Dumm, Mrs. Arthur Hinton, Mrs. Robert Bowers, Mrs. Worden McClelland, Mrs. Goldie Byers and Mrs. Frank White. Mrs. Raymond Maxon and Mrs. Frank White sang a duet. Mrs. Harold Edwards joined the society.

Refreshments were served. Others present were: Mrs. Tom Horkman, Miss Margaret Chilcote, Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. Merwin McClelland, Mrs. Don Kempton, Mrs. Eunice Goodman, Mrs. Margie West, Mrs. Melvin Mettler, Miss Helen Mettler, Mrs. Mary McClelland and Mrs. Hugh Poling. Guests were Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, Mrs. Meyers, Miss Alice Bougher and Mrs. Raymond Maxon.

Those from Laurelville attending the annual Laurelville and Logan WCTU meeting held Wednesday at the Laurelville Methodist Church were: Mrs. Tom Horkman, Mrs. Mary McClelland, Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, Mrs. Earl DeLong, Mrs. Fred Weldman, Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, and Mrs. Ray Poling. There were 21 members from Logan. Mrs. Paul Monks was in charge of the meeting. The speaker for the meeting was Rev. Mrs. Edna Beugher Hughes. Her theme was taken from the prophet Jeremiah, "There is nothing too hard for the Lord."

Rev. and Mrs. Richard McDowell and Bernada were visiting friends in Laurelville Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crider and family of Chillicothe were Monday guests of his mother Mrs. Ora Crider.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Steel and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Steel and family of Circleville were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Bess Steel.

Danny DeLong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan DeLong and Bruce Ebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ebert left Tuesday for Rio Grand College at Rio Grand Ohio where they will attend college.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kallosch and family of near Logan were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Huggins.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith

(Geneva Justice Ebert) of Route 2, are parents of twins, a boy and a girl, born in Berger Hospital Aug. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartley (Karen Karshner) have named their daughter, born Aug. 26, Bridgett Avon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Garrett (Margaret Wing) are parents of a son born Aug. 29.

Miss Celesta Hoy returned to her home in Laurelville on Wednesday after spending a week with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Muri Bottley of Walworth, Wisconsin.

Johnny Lee Johnson of the U. S. Navy returned to Long Beach, Calif., after spending a 20-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Johnson of Laurelville. He is aboard the U.S.S. Energy, a mine sweeper which will depart soon for overseas duty.

Kenny Dillie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dillie of Route 1, has enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is in training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Miss Celesta Hoy visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Clara Phelps and Mrs. Frieda Lappen of Logan.

Apportioning Approach Is Given Airing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A committee of legislators studying legislative reapportionment has come up with a six-way approach to the problem.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R - Logan, chairman, pushed through the agreement Thursday after Sen. Frank King, D - dent, said the legislature should act without delay or further court action.

Under the agreement, county lines would be unchanged in forming districts with populations sufficient for representation on an equal basis with populous counties. Subdistricting would be employed when needed.

Other points are: Current population figures to be used instead of federal census figures, total population instead of voters to be the basis or representation with the so-called fractional method to be retained, and new reapportionment provisions would be proposed for inclusion in the state constitution rather than leaving the matter up to the legislature.

Viet Nam . . .

(Continued from Page 1) of North Viet Nam, Taylor believes, will very likely be faced with a choice whether to cut its losses in South Viet Nam or to take an increasingly grave risk of its own economic collapse.

This risk would obviously be increased if the United States decided to put on additional pressures by expanding military operations beyond the borders of South Viet Nam and launching air strikes against targets in the north. The North Vietnamese have already had a demonstration of the destructive effects of such operations in the attacks which were made on parol boat bases in August.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Thursday that talks now under way in Paris among Communist and non-Communist leaders in Laos might give some indication of the intentions of Red China in North Viet Nam about continuing its aggression in Southeast Asia.

"If there are no indication that Hanoi and Peiping are prepared to leave their neighbors to the south alone," Rusk said, "then we know pretty clearly that they have not yet come to that decision which they must ultimately reach to leave their neighbors alone and we will have to go on from there."

"But I don't see any prospects for fruitful negotiations on Viet Nam at the present time, because we have no indication that the other side is prepared to stop its illegal aggression against a neighbor," he added.

Former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Taylor's predecessor in Saigon, reported to President Johnson Thursday on a tour of Europe where he conferred with allied government leaders on recent developments in Viet Nam. Lodge said Johnson was pleased to hear that nine or 10 more friendly nations are planning to give non-military help to South Viet Nam.

Such aid is now being given by the United States, Britain, Australia, New Zealand and France.

Coal Mine Accident Is Fatal to Workman

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP) — Herbert J. Kuckucki, 52, of Bellaire was killed Thursday in an industrial accident at the North American Coal Co. mine in Powhatan. His body was found under a mine motor.

A-C School Board Seeks 2-Mill Renewal

The Amanda - Clearcreek Board of Education, in a special session Wednesday, approved a resolution to place a two mill renewal tax levy to run for eight years on the November Ballot.

The income from the levy will be used for operating expenses.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, trailing a cloud of optimism behind him, has gone back to his job in South Viet Nam as U.S. ambassador. But, as usual, the picture of Viet Nam is still foggy.

If it had not been for the overwhelming interest in this country in the Johnson-Goldwater political campaign, the chaos in Viet Nam now would have a sharper hold on the American consciousness.

With the trouble and turmoil bubbling through the Southeast Asian country, which the United States has been trying for eight years to save from Communist take-over, Taylor came home for four days to report on the problem.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, during the Kennedy administration, made a number of trips to Viet Nam and re-

Nevertheless, he came home saying Viet Nam was "on the right track."

Even Johnson, when he was vice president, visited Viet Nam, shook hands all around, and was so impressed by President Ngo Dinh Diem that he compared him with Sir Winston Churchill.

It was hardly an apt comparison for the Vietnamese got so fed up with Diem's dictatorship that he was killed in a military coup which put an officers' junta in control. That was last November, while Lodge was still there.

Then in January the junta was tossed out in another coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh who became boss and then a few weeks ago was forced out in an uprising, led by students. He, too, had the dictatorship tag placed on him.

Buddhists and Catholics fought each other, although the Communist guerrillas were breathing ever harder down the necks of all of them. There was developing chaos. Finally Khanh came back in charge again.

And that's where the situation stands now, with Taylor optimistic.

The upheavals of the past few weeks were the worst in the eight years that the United States has been giving the South Vietnamese military and economic aid to stand off the Red guerrillas from the north.

sometimes fatal clashes between them and Catholics.

And a clandestine radio of the Red guerrillas was calling on the South Vietnamese — soldiers and civilians — to drive out the Americans.

Taylor returned to his job in Saigon with Johnson administration approval for a political-military buildup to put huge pressure on the guerrillas and further U.S. persuasion to promote a strong central government and for a revised economic program.

This was no basic change in American policy although if more emphasis had been put on the economic help years ago — to give Vietnamese more reason for opposing communism — they might have been less indifferent to it and the story at this moment might truly give more reason for optimism.

It's possible that under this generalized picture of American help the decision may have been made for a truly tougher strategy against the Reds. But that remains to be seen.

Instead of getting better, the picture in Viet Nam has steadily been getting worse.

The presidential election here is almost two months away. Before then events in Viet Nam may be a big talking point in the campaign since Sen. Barry Goldwater has been complaining of the way the war there has been handled.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House leadership has set next Thursday for a vote on the proposal to finance medical care for the elderly through Social Security.

The vote will come on the question of whether to send the bill, passed by the Senate, to a conference of both houses. The Senate attached a medical care rider to a bill previously passed by the House.

Backers of the proposal are expected to seek a vote instructing conferees to take certain positions on the measure. If so, it would be the first time that the principle of Social Security financings of hospital care for persons over 65 has come to a vote in the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, says U.S. continental aerospace defense is strong in the areas of early warning and command and control.

Addressing a meeting of the Air Force Association Thursday, LeMay said fighters equipped with new intercept radar and infrared search and track equipment plus Bomarc missiles are on continuous alert in both Canada and the United States.

"These aircraft, together with the Army's Nike and Hawk missiles and certain naval elements provide a credible continental defense against the manned bomber threat," LeMay said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a bow Thursday to William Shakespeare, Secretary of State Dean Rusk swore in James L. Greenfield as assistant secretary for public affairs.

Drawing from the bard's play Anthony and Cleopatra, Rusk envisioned Greenfield saying to State Department officials, "Pour out the pack of matter to mine ear, the good and bad together."

And, from the same play, he said Greenfield might get this response from department officials: "Though it be honest, it is never good to bring bad news; give to a gracious message an host of tongues; but let ill tidings tell themselves."

"Nuts" would be Greenfield's non-Shakespearean reply, Rusk conjectured.

Dem Platform Writers Go Back on Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Democratic platform drafters go back to work today with another light turnout of witnesses scheduled to appear.

The Plat form Committee is hearing recommendations before coming up with its 1964 pledge before next week's State Democratic Convention here.

Much of the state platform will incorporate parts of the national platform, chairman James W. Shocknessy said.

Only four of 43 scheduled witnesses appeared Thursday. Shocknessy called the turnout "sparse, but representative."

State Sen. Frank W. King, D - Lucas, was not so charitable. He blasted the Ohio Education Association for failing to show up, saying the group's absence was "inexcusable."

One of Thursday's key witnesses was Robert D. Bollard, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO.

He attacked the OAE's proposals to increase the state sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent.

Shocknessy told Bollard the committee agrees and would not support a sales tax increase.

The OEA wants the tax boost to increase school revenue by $116 million annually.

Colorado has more than 150 metallic and nonmetallic minerals.

Laurelville News

By Mrs. Ray Poling

The Woman Society of Christian Service met recently at the church with Mrs. Robert West and Mrs. Tom Rose as hostesses.

Mrs. Robert West played on the organ "How Great Thou Art" as the prelude. Mrs. George Bowers was in charge of the program. Those helping with the topic of the program were Mrs. Winifred Dumm, Mrs. Arthur Hinton, Mrs. Robert Bowers, Mrs. Worden McClelland, Mrs. Goldie Byers and Mrs. Frank White. Mrs. Raymond Maxon and Mrs. Frank White sang a duet. Mrs. Harold Edwards joined the society.

Refreshments were served. Others present were: Mrs. Tom Horkman, Miss Margaret Chilcote, Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. Merwin McClelland, Mrs. Don Kempton, Mrs. Eunice Goodman, Mrs. Margie West, Mrs. Melvin Mettler, Miss Helen Mettler, Mrs. Mary McClelland and Mrs. Hugh Poling. Guests were Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, Mrs. Meyers, Miss Alice Bougher and Mrs. Raymond Maxon.

Those from Laurelville attending the annual Laurelville and Logan WCTU meeting held Wednesday at the Laurelville Methodist Church were: Mrs. Tom Hockman, Mrs. Mary McClelland, Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, Mrs. Earl DeLong, Mrs. Fred Weidman, Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, and Mrs. Ray Poling. There were 21 members from Logan. Mrs. Paul Monks was in charge of the meeting. The speaker for the meeting was Rev. Mrs. Edna Beugher Hughes. Her theme was taken from the prophet Jeremiah, "There is nothing too hard for the Lord."

Rev. and Mrs. Richard McDowell and daughters Emily and Berneda of Sedalia were visiting friends in Laurelville Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crider and family of Chillicothe were Monday guests of his mother Mrs. Ora Crider.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Steel and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Steel and family of Circleville were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Bess Steel.

Danny DeLong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan DeLong and Bruce Ebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ebert left Tuesday for Rio Grand College at Rio Grand Ohio where they will attend college.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kalkosch and family of near Logan were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Huggins.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith

(Geneva Justice Ebert) of Route 2, are parents of twins, a boy and a girl, born in Berger Hospital Aug. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartley (Karen Karshner) have named their daughter, born Aug. 26, Bridgett Avon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Garrett (Margaret Wing) are parents of a son born Aug. 29.

Miss Celesta Hoy returned to her home in Laurelville on Wednesday after spending a week with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Murl Bottelmy of Walworth, Wisconsin.

Johnny Lee Johnson of the U. S. Navy returned to Long Beach, Calif., after spending a 20-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Johnson of Laurelville. He is aboard the U.S.S. Energy, a mine sweeper which will depart soon for overseas duty.

Kenny Dillie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dillie of Route 1, has enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is in training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Miss Celesta Hoy visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Clara Phelps and Mrs. Frieda Lappen of Logan.

Apportioning Approach Is Given Airing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A committee of legislators studying legislative reapportionment has come up with a six-way approach to the problem.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R - Logan, chairman, pushed through the agreement Thursday after Sen. Frank King, D - dent, said the legislature should act without delay or further court action.

Under the agreement, county lines would be unchanged in forming districts with populations sufficient for representation on an equal basis with populous counties. Subdistricting would be employed when needed.

Other points are: Current population figures to be used instead of federal census figures, total population instead of voters to be the basis or representation with the so-called fractional method to be retained, and new reapportionment provisions would be proposed for inclusion in the state constitution rather than leaving the matter up to the legislature.

Viet Nam . . .

(Continued from Page 1) of North Viet Nam, Taylor believes, will very likely be faced with a choice whether to cut its losses in South Viet Nam or to take an increasingly grave risk of its own economic collapse.

This risk would obviously be increased if the United States decided to put on additional pressures by expanding military operations beyond the borders of South Viet Nam and launching air strikes against targets in the north. The North Vietnamese have already had a demonstration of the destructive effects of such operations in the attacks which were made on parol boat bases in August.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Thursday that talks now under way in Paris among Communist and non-Communist leaders in Laos might give some indication of the intentions of Red China in North Viet Nam about continuing their aggression in Southeast Asia.

"If there are no indication that Hanoi and Peiping are prepared to leave their neighbors to the south alone," Rusk said, "then we know pretty clearly that they have not yet come to that decision which they must ultimately reach to leave their neighbors alone and we will have to go on from there."

"But I don't see any prospects for fruitful negotiations on Viet Nam at the present time, because we have no indication that the other side is prepared to stop its illegal aggression against a neighbor," he added.

Former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Taylor's predecessor in Saigon, reported to President Johnson Thursday on a tour of Europe where he conferred with allied government leaders on recent developments in Viet Nam. Lodge said Johnson was pleased to hear that nine or 10 more friendly nations are planning to give non-military help to South Viet Nam.

Such aid is now being given by the United States, Britain, Australia, New Zealand and France.

Coal Mine Accident Is Fatal to Workman

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP) — Herbert J. Kuckucki, 52, of Bellaire was killed Thursday in an industrial accident at the North American Coal Co. mine in Powhatan. His body was found under a mine motor.

A-C School Board Seeks 2-Mill Renewal

The Amanda - Clearcreek Board of Education, in a special session Wednesday, approved a resolution to place a two mill renewal tax levy to run for eight years on the November Ballot.

The income from the levy will be used for operating expenses.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, trailing a cloud of optimism behind him, has gone back to his job in South Viet Nam as U.S. ambassador. But, as usual, the picture of Viet Nam is still foggy.

If it had not been for the overwhelming interest in this country in the Johnson-Goldwater political campaign, the chaos in Viet Nam now would have a sharper hold on the American consciousness.

With the trouble and turmoil bubbling through the Southeast Asian country, which the United States has been trying for eight years to save from Communist take-over, Taylor came home for four days to report on the problem.

He talked with President Johnson and with congressmen, reportedly departing with confidence in "eventual victory." This is almost par for the course.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, during the Kennedy administration, made a number of trips to Viet Nam and re-

Taylor had succeeded Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador. Lodge resigned this summer to take part in Republican politics after a year in Saigon. During his stay there one mess piled on top of another.

Nevertheless, he came home saying Viet Nam was "on the right track."

Even Johnson, when he was vice president, visited Viet Nam, shook hands all around, and was so impressed by President Ngo Dinh Diem that he compared him with Sir Winston Churchill.

It was hardly an apt comparison for the Vietnamese got so fed up with Diem's dictatorship that he was killed in a military coup which put an officers' junta in control. That was last November, while Lodge was still there.

Then in January the junta was tossed out in another coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh who became boss and then a few weeks ago was forced out in an uprising, led by students. He, too, had the dictatorship tag placed on him.

Buddhists and Catholics fought each other, although the Communist guerrillas were breathing ever harder down the necks of all of them. There was developing chaos. Finally Khanh came back in charge again.

And that's where the situation stands now, with Taylor optimistic.

The upheavals of the past few weeks were the worst in the eight years that the United States has been giving the South Vietnamese military and economic aid to stand off the Red guerrillas from the north.

And this week a Saigon newspaper, the Buddhists' leading publication, accused Americans of triggering the bloody and
